

BATTLE FOR LIFE IN GALE AT SEA

White Girl Nearly Killed by Negress

STEAMER ALMOST WRECKED

DIRIGO DAMAGED BY ANGRY WAVES

Members of Crew Are Nearly Washed
Overboard.

SAN FRANCISCO, Jan. 15.—
The steamer Dirigo, which sailed from Olympia, Wash., seven days ago with a cargo of lumber, arrived here today, disabled and in tow of the steamer Shasta.

NEARLY WRECKED.

The officers of the Dirigo tell a story of terrible experiences at sea and narrow escapes from total wreck, which inevitably would have been attended with loss of life.

THROWN ON END

On last Thursday, when the vessel was fifty miles south of Cape Blanco, she ran into a heavy southeast gale, which threw her on her beam ends and damaged her rudder.

CREW ESCAPE.

About 100,000 feet of lumber was washed overboard and only by clinging to the rigging did the crew escape a similar fate.

The strain on the steamer caused her to spring a leak and soon the hold was partially filled with water.

GIVEN HELP

She was kept afloat during the night, however, and on Friday was sighted by the steamer Shasta, which succeeded in getting out two lines and bringing her to this port.

The Dirigo is owned by the Puget Sound Navigation Company of Port Townsend.

MARSHALL FIELD DYING; RELATIVES AT BEDSIDE

MARSHALL FIELD, WHO IS REPORTED TO BE DYING

Patient Sinking in the Grasp of Pneumonia.

NEW YORK Jan 15.—At 9 15 a.
m. the following bulletin on Marshall Field's condition was issued by his physicians at the Holland House:
Near the end of the seventh day of the disease Mr. Field's condition remains critical. There is as yet no improvement.

"FRANK BILLINGS"

When the 9 15 a. m. bulletin was issued Mr. Field's pulse varied between 60 and 120.
At 10 o'clock this morning Stanley Field, nephew of Marshall Field, said that his uncle's condition was hopeless, and that his death appeared only a matter of hours.
Mr. Field was conscious at that time however and all his relatives who are in the city were at his bedside by his request.

from lying sixty hours on the beach.

CALIFORNIAN GETS GOOD APPOINTMENT

WASHINGTON Jan 15.—James Brown Scott of California, professor of law at Columbia University N. Y., has been appointed solicitor of the State Department to succeed Judge
Pendfield, resigned.

HORRIBLE STORY OF CRUELTY

Beaten and Kicked Until She Becomes Unconscious.

Racial and religious prejudice so maddened Irene Rutherford a young colored girl who resides with her parents at 713 Thirty-ninth street that she sought to murder Annie Patterson a white girl aged 11 years who resides at 816 Twenty-ninth street.

The infuriated colored girl came very nearly accomplishing her purpose had it not been for the interference of Pet Winckler a miss of twelve, who witnessed the fierce combat between the colored and white girl.

FIGHT IN LOT
The scene of the fight was in a vacant lot at the corner of Grove and Fortieth street. The colored girl lay in wait for her white rival and meeting her in the lot at once proceeded to give her a thrashing.

CHOKES GIRL.
The Patterson girl was knocked down. The infuriated negro lass then proceeded to choke the smaller child.

After choking and pounding the white child into insensibility the colored fury proceeded to kick the white child in the back and in the stomach.

TEARS LIPS.
After this the young demoness inserted her fingers in the mouth of the insensible white child and tore the lips on either side.

SAVED FROM DEATH.
It was at this juncture that Pet Winckler, a school companion of the beaten child, interfered. She succeeded in pulling off the black fury before actual murder had been committed.

Since the terrible ordeal through which the Patterson girl passed she has been under the care of Dr. R. Hill.
The fight occurred on Wednesday, and since then natural sleep was impossible as far as the beaten and mutilated child was concerned.

GIVEN OPIATES.
Her physician gave her opiates to relieve and give her rest from the pain she endured. Dr. Hill states the girl will recover but that her recovery will be slow.

RELIGIOUS QUARREL.
As far as can be ascertained the fight was brought about by racial and religious differences. The Patterson and Winckler girls attend the school of Father Serra.

The little colored girl attends the public schools. Names passed between the children and the colored girl became mortally offended, and proceeded to wreak her vengeance in a thoroughly ferocious manner.

BATTERY CHARGED.
A warrant has been issued for the arrest of the Rutherford girl on a charge of battery. Had she been allowed to spend her anger on the insensible white girl for a few moments longer in the opinion of the physician and of the police, there would have been murder committed.

STORM BRINGING PROSPERITY

SACRAMENTO Jan 15.—Rain continued to fall all of last night and has kept up steadily today.
The storm has been general over the northern part of the State and will result in immense good as the ground received a thorough soaking.
All the streams are booming but have not reached the flood stage.
The snowsheds on the Central Pacific road in the mountains which were crushed by snowslides have been cleared away and trains are again running on time.

WOMEN ARE VICTIMS OF NEW KIND OF A THIEF

MRS. N. G. BOERNER.

Horsewhipping Punishment Favored

"Jack, the purse snatcher," has made his appearance in Oakland, and during the last few days has attacked four women on the streets while they were on their way home.

The attacks are made after night has fallen on the city and when the victims are passing some lonely or unfrequented part of the street.

In each case the thief has issued the injunction for the woman held up not to scream under penalty of death.

No further violence than that necessary to accomplish the robbery was offered in any of the cases.

LATEST VICTIM.
The latest victim of the purse snatcher was Miss M. Coakley who resides at 830 Fifteenth street. She was returning home last night about 11 o'clock and was between Brush and Castro streets when attacked. The street is lined with trees at this point and is very dark.

GIVES BATTLE.

The thief stepped from behind one

In the latter part of December Miss Margaret Campbell of 952 Oak street was robbed of a purse containing $45.
On January 7 Mrs. Emily Van Dyke of 110 East Twenty-third street was robbed of valuables.
Last Saturday night Mrs. M. G. Boer-ner of 2249 Chestnut street fell a victim to the thief.
And on the same night Miss M. Coakley of 813 Fifteenth street was seized by the same man, whose purpose was robbery.

of the trees as Miss Coakley passed and grabbed her about the waist. She gave battle to the robber and fought him off successfully.

The young lady gave vent to several piercing screams and her assailant disappeared in the darkness without having obtained possession of the purse.

HIS LOOKS.
The purse snatcher is described as about 5 feet 7 inches tall smooth shaven, about twenty years old and possessed of sharp features. This description tallies with that given by the other victims.

ANOTHER CASE.
On Saturday evening Mrs. M. G.
Boerner, who resides at 2249 Chestnut street, with friends, was attacked by the same individual on Nineteenth street, between Alice and Harrison streets about 8 o'clock in the evening.

FIGHTS FOR MONEY.
Mrs. Boerner was not rendered helpless by her fright on being seized, but fought the purse snatcher off, and saved all of her personal effects, with the exception of an empty purse which

COLONEL HEUER'S REPORT

Government Engineer
Gives Facts to Secretary of War.

The Southern Pacific Company
whether its purpose be to block the Western Pacific Company as the latter alleges, or to improve its own road and service for the benefit of the public, as the Maritime commission asserts, is going forward rapidly with its construction work in the vicinity of Melrose, where a passenger service was inaugurated on the new line track from Melrose to San Leandro road or Austin station Saturday.

DOUBLE TRACK.
Today the company is laying a double track there which is pointed to by the management as further evidence of the sincerity of its intention to maintain a good service for the benefit of the patrons in that vicinity, who have long begged for transportation facilities and who have been promised the same for several months.

HALF HOUR TRAINS.
This double track will enable the company to provide trains at much more frequent intervals of course, than would have been possible with but a single line of track through the territory affected. Although the beginning of the service called for only one train an hour, it is the announced intention of the company to run trains half hourly as soon as the necessary steps of which the laying of this double track is a part, can be taken.

WATER ON MACHINE SITE.
Scores of laborers are still utilized on the section mentioned and it is expected that the second track will be completed with almost as great rapidity as was the first. The men employed are mainly the same ones who have been working on the site of the proposed new machine shops east of the Perilla street tracks in West Oakland but it is stated that this is not in the least an evidence of any intention to abandon work at the latter place.

The machine shop site has been practically under water for the last few days great lakes having formed to such an extent that a boat might easily na gitate to almost any portion,

TWO ALAMEDA YOUNG MEN WOULD BECOME BURGLARS

ALAMEDA, Jan 15.—Two amateur burglars, both belonging to prominent families, were cleverly captured at an early hour this morning, while attempting to break into the waiting room of the Southern Pacific Company at Seventh Street station, on the South side line, where money and a large number of railroad tickets were left over night.

The prisoners who will have to answer charges of attempted burglary and carrying burglars tools, are Donald McKiffick, aged 25 years, and F. E.
Bowen, 18 years old the latter a son of the well known merchant of that name, who was a member of the firm of Wetmore Bowen & Co., liquor dealers of San Francisco. They both give their address as 738 Central avenue.

EARLY MORNING ARREST.

The arrest was made at 1 30 o'clock this morning, by Patrolman Blunk, whose attention was attracted to the spot from Webster street, when he saw the lights in the waiting room go out. Blunk immediately proceeded to the Encinal Hotel, where he watched the depot from the awning, and seeing the young men leave the place rather hurriedly, followed down to Central

CARRIED IRON BAR.

Bowen carried concealed on his person a rusty piece of iron two feet long formerly used as a lift for the center-board of a boat, and which he utilized as a make-shift jimmy to force the door of the station. Both young men were taken to the city prison where they are held under default of $1000 bonds. They will be arraigned tomorrow morning before Judge Tappan.

ARRESTED ONCE BEFORE.

Young Bowen has been in difficulty with the authorities on other occasions.
Some few months ago he was arrested on a charge of petty larceny preferred by Isadore Leiner, who was then manager of the Park Theater, who accused Bowen of stealing a quantity of theater tickets while in his employ. He was found guilty but sentence was suspended at the time. It is supposed that Bowen and McKiffick were responsible for the hold-up of the Chinese, on Eagle avenue not long ago, who was robbed of $150, and given a brutal beating by two men answering their description. McKiffick is related to former Judge McKiffick, who was prominent in San Francisco in the early jumping days of the State.

PASTORS MAKE A PROTEST

Ministers of Chicago
Demand Better Police Protection.

CHICAGO, Jan. 15.—Protests, loud and insistent came from Chicago pulpits yesterday against the lawless conditions which were held responsible for the murder of Mrs. Franklin C. Hollister. This crime, added to the killing of three other women within a few months, roused the ministers to demand that better protection be given by the police to women.

Mayor Durren, who returned during the day from Denver, joined in the appeal, saying that the city needed more policemen. He declared it to be the duty of the Council to provide the means for putting a large enough force of patrolmen out to cover the city thoroughly.

This also was demanded by the First Methodist Church. Plans for a mass meeting to compass this end were made by others.

Sorrow and anger mingled in the services of the Wesleyan Methodist Church, of which Mrs. Hollister was a member. Ministers of the choir, in which she had sung, could not sit in their seats before the congregation, but remained in the pews.

Richard G. Ivens, who strangled Mrs. Hollister Friday evening, told two stories of the disposal of the brown seal muff which his victim had swung in her hand when seen a few hours before she disappeared.

He said he carried it away under his coat and hid it. Later he said he threw it into a garbage can. The police could not find the muff. Out of this there arose a stronger feeling on the part of some of the police that Ivens had accomplices.

Relatives of Mrs. Hollister were convinced the young murderer had not worked alone. They argued that the victim must have been detained early in the day by members of the "evil gang," and perhaps was murdered before evening, and her body removed to the stable where it was found.

Richard Ivens, the father of the murderer began to work up a defense for his son. His plea will be insanity. He said the young man had acted "queerly."

WOMEN ARE VICTIMS OF NEW THIEF

the thief carried off.

FOLLOWS HER.

The man who tried to rob Mrs. Boerner followed her for a block or more on Nineteenth street before he made the attack.

He reached from behind and grabbed the purse. Instead of giving vent to a scream, the young woman, who, while rather diminutive, fought the robber fiercely.

TAKES PURSE.

When the struggle was over it was found that the robber had possession of the large purse carried by Mrs. Boerner, but the smaller one containing her money had fallen to the ground.

The plucky young matron, instead of running when released from the grasp of the thief, stood her ground, picked up the small purse and walked until she got a San Pablo avenue car.

TELLS HER STORY.

In an interview with a TRIBUNE reporter, Mrs. Boerner this morning described her sensations. In build Mrs. Boerner would be described as petite and she is pretty.

She has spunky black eyes, which snapped open during the recital of the hold-up and as she gave the explanation why she did not run or scream. Here is her story:

ABOUT THE WAIST.

"I had been visiting friends and was on my way home. The man who attacked me followed me for more than a block. When he got close to me he grasped me about the waist and seized my purse.

"I fought as hard as I could. I did not want him to get sight of my watch, which was fastened to my dress.

"I knew he was stronger than I. The big purse which I carried flew open and the little purse fell to the pavement.

FINDS MONEY.

"He ran with the big purse. At first I thought that he had gotten away with a quarter which I had left in the big purse, but the next day I went by the place where we had the struggle and I found the quarter. I will keep it as a memento of my visit to Oakland.

FAVORS HORSEWHIPPING.

"I do not think that such fellows should be sent to jail," continued Mrs. Boerner. "But I do believe that a good horsewhipping would be about the proper medicine for such cowards. I hope this fellow comes across a woman strong enough to thrash him. He is so much of a coward that I suppose that would not be difficult."

OTHER VICTIM.

The other woman who encountered the purse snatcher was Mrs. Lydia Van Dyke of East Oakland, who was held up on Thirteenth street, between Madison and Jackson streets.

The thief grabbed her from behind and snatched her purse, which contained but ten cents.

FOURTH VICTIM.

Miss Maggie Campbell was the fourth of the women to suffer by the purse snatcher. While passing Lafayette Park a man snatched a purse from her containing $45.

It is the opinion of the police that the same thief has committed all of the crimes. A special effort is being made to apprehend the operator.

All regular and special police officers have been given strict instructions to question all persons who are abroad at night and who resemble the purse snatcher in the matter of height and personal appearance.

COL. HEUER FILES HIS REPORT

so that the stoppage of work there was imperative. It is stated that the plans of the company in this regard will be carried out as rapidly as the weather will permit.

LUKE IN INJUNCTIONS.

With a lull at hand in connection with the hearing of the injunctions in the Alameda County Superior Court and the United States Circuit Court in San Francisco, interest just now is centered upon the report of Colonel Heuer, government engineer in charge of Oakland harbor, as to the applications of the Western Pacific and the Southern Pacific for permission to use the United States training wall on the north side of the harbor.

REPORT SENT EAST.

Colonel Heuer's report was sent last Wednesday and should have arrived in Washington by this morning. The announcement of the department, therefore, may be made at any time, though perhaps not through the office of the engineer. The Secretary of War may see fit to notify the parties making application of his decision, in which event, of course, no reply would be necessary to Colonel Heuer.

WHAT HEUER SAYS.

To a TRIBUNE man Colonel Heuer said this morning: "I have no idea as to whether the Secretary of War will reply to me by mail or telegraph, or, for that matter at all. Notification may be sent to the Western Pacific or the Southern Pacific as to what action is taken in reference to their applications. In consequence of my report, in which case it is very possible that no further correspondence at present may take place between the department and myself upon the subject. At any rate, it is very possible that someone else may know the result of the applications before I do.

"I presume the officials in Washington will make public the contents of my report, but of course until I do not care to divulge its nature. I will say this, however: my report is just five lines long."

THE INJUNCTIONS.

The injunction proceedings before Judge Waste have gone over until tomorrow, the court having taken the matter under advisement until then, but a further continuance would probably be granted upon a showing that work was expected from the War Department.

In San Francisco the injunctions before the Federal courts were postponed by Judge Morrow till Monday, January 22, after the deposition of United States Engineer Le Conte was taken next Wednesday.

LE CONTE'S DEPOSITION.

The deposition will be taken by Examiner in Chancery E. H. Hancock at his office in the Postoffice building on Wednesday morning, January 17.

The deposition of Engineer Le Conte will be a most important one. It is understood that it will be on the matter of the tide-lines, upon which it now seems all the suits will hinge.

STANLEY MOORE.

Stanley Moore, one of the Southern Pacific attorneys, said to a TRIBUNE man this morning: "The continuance granted by Judge Morrow Saturday afternoon in the injunction case before him was at the request of the Western Pacific attorneys, and was supposed to be for the purpose of taking the deposition of Engineer Le Conte, but of course there was also a desire on the part of our opponents to gain time. The deposition is to be taken Wednesday so it would not seem that so much longer time would be required. We were ready to proceed with the hearing but we shall spend the time in the enforced interim in preparing our case. We shall have some testimony to submit and we shall take some depositions, too, the order of Judge Morrow having been a general one, permitting both sides to act under it. We have heard nothing as to Colonel Heuer's report on our application."

A Western Pacific attorney said: "We are preparing our case for the hearing before Judge Morrow and expect to be amply prepared when the time comes. We have heard nothing as yet from Washington regarding our application for use of training wall and we know nothing whatever of the nature of Colonel Heuer's report. We rather expect to be notified at once of the War Department's decision, which should cover all the points in our application."

GOULD MEN VISIT HEUER.

A party of Western Pacific men called upon Colonel Heuer of the United States

WOMAN'S NARROW ESCAPE

Mrs. Eichelberger Saves
Her Friend and
Her Home.

BERKELEY, Jan. 15.—The bravery of Mrs. Eichelberger of 3513 Shattuck avenue saved herself and her guest from what might have been serious injury last night.

Mrs. Eichelberger was seeing her guest to the door. She held a lighted lamp in her hand. A large house dog (Mrs. Eichelberger's pet) suddenly came bounding down the hall as the ladies were saying good bye. The big animal playfully jumped against Mrs. Eichelberger and dashed the lighted lamp from her hand, and the flaming oil enveloped the ladies. Mrs. Eichelberger was equal to the emergency, however. She gripped the flaming lamp in her hands and threw it into the street. The lamp exploded in mid air, scattering the burning oil in all directions. Mrs. Eichelberger was badly burned about the face and hands. Her guest escaped unharmed, and the house was saved from the flames.

engineering service and were closeted with him for over an hour Saturday. The party consisted of Vice-President and Chief Executive Officer of the Western Pacific, and J. F. McCutcheon and Garret W. McEneaney, associate counsel. The maps of the office were diligently perused in an effort to determine the exact location of the proposed canal. Heuer was asked as to his contacts with the American Dredging Company.

When interviewed later as to the relation of his office to the dredging done by the American Dredging Company, Colonel Heuer explained that the contract made in the name of the United States Government called only for the dredging and not the disposition of the spoils. "The United States Government," said Colonel Heuer, "concerns itself only with the deepening of the harbor. The dredging company that gets the contracts can do what it wishes with the spoils, with the single limitation that it gets an authorization from us by satisfying us that its disposal of the fillings will not interfere with the navigable waters in any way we may deem injurious. That is to say, the dredging company can make arrangements with private individuals and corporations who may wish their land filled. Of course we would not give an authorization to fill on lands against the consent of their owners."

SEED ADULTERATORS MAY BE EXPOSED

WASHINGTON, Jan. 15.—Attorney-General Moody has rendered an opinion for Secretary Wilson, holding that it will be lawful for the head of the Department of Agriculture to publish the names of dealers who sell adulterated seed. The question arose because the Secretary of Agriculture had an impression that if he did publish such names he would be liable for damages in actions for libel.

MIDSHIPMAN IS PUT ON TRIAL

ANNAPOLIS, Md., Jan. 15.—The trial of the case of Midshipman John P. Hillier, first-class, on the charge of hazing fourth-class men, was resumed this morning. Extreme interest is being taken in his case, as Miller is a leading student in the class which will graduate on February 12th next and is also captain of one of the companies.

The next case to be tried is that of Gunner William J. Chagnon, charged with hazing in six instances. His case will probably be reached this afternoon.

Attorney-General Declares That Decision is Against Rogers.

ST. LOUIS, Mo., Jan. 15.—Attorney-General Lindley arrived from New York last night and after a brief stay departed for Jefferson City. He said regarding the refusal of Henry H. Rogers to answer questions in the Standard Oil inquiry:

"The remarks of Judge Gildersleeve at the close of argument Saturday were significant. They came as near to forecasting a decision in my favor as could be expected from the bench. The court stated that the questions asked Mr. Rogers appeared wholly material and proper. The New York people showed me every consideration and I am grateful to them. I will return to New York to resume the hearing."

ROUTINE WORK OF SUPERVISORS

MANY MATTERS ARE TRANSACTED AT THE MEETING TODAY.

At the meeting of the Board of Supervisors, this morning, Messrs. Mitchell, Rowe and Talbot were present.

Dr. Clark of the County Infirmary reported that there were 393 patients in the institution, 81 of whom were admitted during December. There were fifteen deaths during the month. The report was filed.

PERMISSION GRANTED.

The Realty Syndicate was granted permission to lay a water pipe on Pleasant Valley Road from the county water tank southerly to the city limits, the same to be laid on the side of the road within the sidewalk line.

DOUBLE ASSESSMENT.

A resolution was adopted canceling the double assessment of property belonging to Emma Allard.

The application of the San Francisco and San Joaquin Coal Company for a license to operate a coal mine was referred to the license committee.

CHINESE MURDERERS ARE EXECUTED

CHIEFOOD, Jan. 15.—Three Chinese who confessed to the murder of Military Attache von Guggenheim and Deventer on their return from Port Arthur prior to the capitulation of that place, were executed here today.

Lieutenant von Guggenheim and Lieut. Deventer, respectively German and French military attaches at Port Arthur, left there in August, 1904, in a steamer named the "Albatross." They were never again seen alive and a reward of $2000 was offered for news of them. Last February, news came from Port Arthur that the officers had been robbed, murdered and their bodies thrown overboard.

COMMISSIONERS SAIL.

TANGIER, Morocco, Jan. 15.—The American Minister, Samuel S. Gurne, the member of the American mission to the Moroccan conference, and the Austrian, Portuguese and Belgian representatives to the same meeting, sailed from here today for Algiers on board the French cruiser Gallie.

WEATHER FORECAST BY THE OFFICE BOY

Present indications point to more rain. Chances are that it will rain tonight and maybe tomorrow, but this rain is worth a pile of money. I was getting worried about the dry spell we have been having and now if I can only get the Railroad trustees I will be happy. This town has a great future before it. If it ever gets a chance to use it, I am going to join the new Chamber of Commerce and become a Booster. My brother Bill, who works for Frank Silverwood in Los Angeles, sends me a lot of good pointers on how Los Angeles whoops things up, and I think Oakland has a chance if it will just get together here and pull. Dave left for New York yesterday to buy a lot of new wringles and things, and while he is gone, the Chief is going to make this town so just prepare yourself for something doing.

BELLS ON MOVING INJUNCTION WRIT BETTER SERVICE DENIED IS DEMANDED

SUPERVISORS TO PROTECT LIVES OF PEOPLE ON COUNTY ROADS.

At the meeting of the Board of Supervisors this morning the following communication relating the running of trains by the Oakland Traction Consolidated on the Mills College route was read:

"Old Country Road, Fruitvale, Jan. 6, 1906.—On December 2, 1905, a private automobile, when returning home to Oakland on the old county road was run into by three empty cars and an electric motor. The cars caught the auto as it was crossing the rails and pushed it for about a hundred feet up the line and smashed it.

"I saw the collision from my window and hurried across to find that no one was injured. The occupants consisted of several ladies, a little girl, and the chauffeur and the owner.

"A representative of Stone contractors called on me to test the particulars of the accident. I told him how it happened, and that no one was to blame but if a bell were rung when the empty cars were returning it would prevent accidents.

"However, nearly a month has passed since the accident above referred to but no bell has been rung when these cars return empty.

"I therefore appeal to your honorable body to insist on protection for those whose lives are in danger when crossing the car track. Since Mr. Pfeiffer has built his house on the old county road up to the rail, no one can see anything coming from Fourteenth street and, therefore, the danger is especially to those riding in automobiles, is a regular death-trap.

"I would suggest that the automobile bell or gong be rung and pressed into service by the narrow gauge on Park street. This would prevent accidents. To open the footfall road before this is done would be a crime and a gross negligence, the result of which some one will have to pay for.

"Yours truly,

"JOSEPH SPENCER."

Supervisor Mitchell was appointed a committee of one to confer with the Oakland Traction Consolidated on the subject.

HONOR COMMISSIONER.

GIBRALTAR, Jan. 15.—The American Ambassador to Italy, Henry White, left for the narrow gauge on Park street. The Moroccan conference, arrived here today from Naples on the North German Lloyd steamer Princess Irene. The steamer's band played the American and British anthems as the Princess Irene entered the harbor. A steam launch of the United States cruiser Galveston ran alongside the liner and took the Ambassador on board the Brooklyn, flagship of Rear-Admiral Sigbee, where the Admiral assembled his officers and received Mr. White with all honors while the warships fired an ambassador's salute.

JUDGE MELVIN REFUSES TO RE-STRAIN CITY COUN-CIL.

The writ of Injunction asked for by C. O. Holmes to restrain Mayor Frank Mott and the City Council from granting the Key Route a franchise over Twenty-second street was denied by Judge Melvin this morning. The matter was argued last Friday before Judge Melvin, who took the case under advisement until this morning.

The main point upon which Attorney Schoeder for Holmes hoped for a favorable decision was that the Mayor and Council had not followed the law providing for special procedure in the case of an interurban railway. In this matter, however, Judge Melvin held that they were not obliged to follow this procedure, as they were asking a franchise under a

THE LATEST NEWS OF THE DAY-4:30 P. M.

FIFTEEN MEN HELD UP BY TWO MASKED ROBBERS

Saloon in San Francisco is the Scene of an Early Morning Encounter.

SAN FRANCISCO, Jan. 15.—The Bakers' Home saloon, conducted by Paul Irion and Jacob Keiffer at 333 Howard street, was the scene of a bold and successful holdup at an early hour this morning. With fifteen men in the place, two robbers, wearing masks, made from blue pocket handkerchiefs, entered the barroom. With leveled revolvers the robbers ordered Irion and Keiffer to line up with faces to the wall and hands in the air. The demeanor of the masked men indicated in no uncertain manner that they were prepared to enforce their demands, and the men were not slow in complying with the orders.

LOOTS CASH REGISTER.

The robbers were each armed with a pistol of large caliber. When the men had all been lined up against the wall to their satisfaction the smaller of the two stepped behind the bar, after ordering Irion to join the men on the other side of the room. The robber opened the cash register and took $53.50 in change.

As the robber was placing the money in his pocket Irion thought he saw an opportunity to escape, and promptly broke through the door.

The robbers made no attempt to shoot or stop the fleeing proprietor. They dashed out of the front door of the saloon and ran down Howard street to Fifth. The fifteen men followed into the street and took up the chase. The robbers were then lost sight of in the darkness. The cries of the pursuers brought Sergeant of Police Christensen and four patrolmen to the vicinity of the hold-up. The locality was searched thoroughly by the police, but no trace of the men was discovered.

With the poor description of the robbers furnished the police it is unlikely that they will be able to effect their capture. They were apparently young, but handled themselves like hardened criminals.

OVERLOOKED THE GOLD.

Irion declared this morning that over $100 in gold was contained in a small safe which the robbers overlooked. The door of the safe was open and the saloon man was unable to explain why the strong box was not discovered and looted.

But for Irion's escape from the saloon it is probable that the robbers would have noticed the open safe and would have added $400 to the results of their morning's work.

LIVELY BIDDING LOGAN'S SECOND IN COURT TRIAL SET

There was some lively bidding this morning over a piece of property belonging to the estate of the late Samuel Webb and located at Stewart and Mission streets in San Francisco. The price was run up from $17,500 to $55,000 before all opposition was silenced. W. J. Yore secured the property at that figure for James P. Dugan.

The original bid made was Dugan's and the sale came up this morning for confirmation of the probate department before Judge Harris. When the amount of bid was announced and Judge Harris asked if there was anyone who would bid more, E. T. Clauson raised the amount to $55,000. Dugan came back with a bid of $100,000 and the bidding set-sawed back and forth until it reached $55,000. At this point Clauson dropped out and the H. S. White Machine Company entered the contest and in 100 bids raised the figure up to $55,000.

Dugan came back with a bid of $100 more which was not increased, and the property was knocked down to him for the sum of $55,000.

Webb died ten or twelve years ago and left a large estate in Eden Township, besides this piece of realty in San Francisco.

LOVE IS CAUSE OF HIS ROBBERY

Lured by the promise of being introduced to a dusky queen, Henry Dorey, colored, allowed himself to be inveigled to a saloon in West Oakland, where he was robbed of $2.17. He accused Hoy Graves, who gave him the information as to the woman he was to meet, of the robbery. Graves is under arrest and will be charged with the theft tomorrow.

ACCUSED OF THEFT.

Thomas Brady and Carl Arnold, who are accused of trying to rob a wagon belonging to the Merchants' Express, were this morning arraigned on a charge of petty larceny and also on a charge of battery, preferred by H. Mitchell, a pedestrian, who interfered with them. It is alleged while the wagon was proceeding along the street the two men pulled several boxes of cigars from it. Two citizens, H. Mitchell and Andrew Erickson gave chase. Both men were captured and turned over to the police.

VETERAN NATURALIZED.

John Wall, a veteran of the battle of Santiago, was naturalized today before Judge Wasto. He was born in Finland in a province under the rule of Czar Nicholas, and forewore his allegiance to his native land to become a citizen of Uncle Sam. He has been in the United States Navy twenty-three years.

He stated that he saw the destruction of Carver's fleet in the renowned running fight and took part in the action.

WILL FOR PROBATE.

A petition for the probate of the will of the late Isabella R. Alexander was filed this morning. The estate is valued at $20,000. The deceased leaves her house on Broadway between Eleventh and San Jose avenues to her sister Agnes S. Aiton and divides the remainder of her property among Mrs. Aiton and her brothers John and Andrew Brown.

WILL RETIRE.

CLEVELAND, O., Jan. 15.—P. R. Fahy & Co., stock and grain brokers, announced today that the firm will go into liquidation and retire from business owing to the speculations of trusted employees and also to the ill-health of the senior member, P. R. Fahy.

EASTERN TEMPERATURES.

CHICAGO, Jan. 15.—A mild temperature was forecast for the day. High, 40; low, 24. Philadelphia, 32; Washington, 36; Chicago, 46; New York, 34; Cincinnati, 46; St. Louis, 32.

SMALL FIRE.

The fire department was called on at noon today to extinguish a chimney fire at the home of W. White, 1222 Webster street.

Millionaire is Convicted on a Charge of Perjury.

CHICAGO, Jan. 15.—Edward R. Tufts, reputed to be a millionaire and owner of a number of valuable mines in Montana and other northwestern states, was today found guilty of perjury, and unless he gains a new trial will be compelled to serve an indeterminate sentence of from one to fourteen years in the penitentiary. The legal troubles of Mr. Tufts originated with a divorce suit which he instituted against his wife, whom he had married while he was a "cow puncher" on a western ranch. He gained a fortune through mining enterprises. It is declared, and later that while his wife was in New York Tufts came to this city and obtained a divorce on the grounds of desertion. When Mrs. Tufts heard of the divorce she returned to Chicago and secured the indictment of her husband, charging that he had not deserted her and that his evidence to that effect was false. During the trial which has just closed Tufts took the stand and swore that all the evidence he had given at the divorce trial was true. He was released on bail pending an appeal.

Charge Made He Took a Draw-Down on a Contract.

LOS ANGELES, Jan. 15.—Charles W. Corbaley, Southern California agent for the Atlantic, Gulf and Pacific Company, testified today in court that Town Trustees J. R. Losse of Long Beach had suggested a change in plans for four months of the new beach convention hall which reduced the cost of the works $20,000; that Losse told him he wanted the $20,000, that Corbaley drew $20,000 from the bank in bills, placed them in a sealed envelope on Losse's desk, told Losse they were there and saw Losse set the package of money; that the second $20,000 was paid Losse by Corbaley, giving Losse an order on Contractor Jones for $21,775 and receiving in exchange Losse's personal check for $27,775.

HIS WIFE WAS DIVORCED

A letter from an attorney in Decatur, Ill., was received by County Clerk John P. Cook this morning asking if a divorce had been granted the wife of Samuel N. Gerber. It went on to state that he died recently leaving considerable property and leaving a child as his heir. There was a question as to whether his wife is entitled to any of the property; therefore this inquiry. If there is such a divorce case, please make a certified copy of the decree and send same to me by express C. O. D., or by mail and I will remit. If there is no such case in your court, is there any other court in your county authorized by law to grant divorces, and if so, will you please have that clerk see if there has been such a divorce.

WAR VETERAN PASSES AWAY.

San Francisco County Clerk's Office Affairs
in Bad Shape.

SAN FRANCISCO, Jan. 15.—The new County Clerk has discovered a scandalous state of affairs in his department. After investigating his office for a week, he finds that the work is at least six months behind date. Scores of wills that were filed during the last year have not been entered up and were found deposited in an old box in the County Clerk's office. The affairs of the office are to be fully investigated and the Mayor's attention has been called to the matter. The present County Clerk has been in office just one week.

HASSE JUROR
MISSED TRAIN

J. C. Martin, one of the jurors in the case of Otto L. Hasse, missed his train at Livermore this morning and was unable to arrive here until 2 o'clock this afternoon, necessitating an adjournment of the trial until that hour. The juror was excused from attendance on the case last Thursday, Attorney Lin Churon having an exhaustive argument to make on the insufficiency of the indictment brought against Hasse by the Grand Jury. The argument of the law point did not necessitate the jurors being present and they were all to go home. Judge Martin did not announce his decision in regard to the trial raised by Churon but will probably do so at the resumption of the trial. Churon is making a hard fight to get Hasse off before the evidence is presented to the jury and has spent much time in an effort to find a flaw in the indictment by which he is being held.

DECLARES HE GAVE HIS LIQUOR AWAY

Charles E. Rutledge, a bartender for Henry Inwall, who conducts a saloon on Broadway between Seventh and Eighth streets, was arraigned before Police Judge Samuels this morning on a charge of selling liquor after midnight. He is alleged by Sergeant Bock and Policemen Green to have served a party of three men and two women after 12 o'clock at night. His defense is that he was giving the liquor away and was not selling it. The case was set for hearing on January 25.

TESTIFY AGAINST
WEBB JR.

Prosecution is Doing Its Best to Convict
Young Man.

The trial of A. C. Webb Jr. of Alameda, charged with having admitted Florence Cook, a girl 13 years of age, was resumed this morning before Judge B. F. Ogden and a jury. The testimony of Chief of Police Conrad was taken. He stated that he had investigated the affair and upon the girl making the charge against Webb he had placed him under arrest. The testimony of Policeman Brown of Alameda was also taken. Both Conrad and Brown testified to being at a conference at which Webb, Florence Cook, Attorney Fred St. Sure and Mrs. J. H. Tingman were present and the charges were made by the girl against Webb.

MISSED TRAIN

Mrs. N. James was also called and testified to the fact that she lived almost opposite the Tingman home where Florence Cook was employed. On the afternoon of the day on which the alleged assault took place she had seen young Webb standing talking to the girl. She said that Mrs. Tingman had said that she took a look at her home occasionally while she was away from home on her summer vacation, and on going to her side gate on the afternoon in question she had seen Florence and Webb talking. She said that Florence's hair was very much mussed and she looked as though she was crying. She said she did not pay much attention to it as she thought she had probably been doing housework and her hair had become disheveled in that way. She also stated that she thought now in looking back at it that the girl was crying when she saw her. She was given a severe cross-examination on this point by Attorneys St. Sure and Tingman, and she admitted that she had no testimony on the preliminary examination about this, although she stated she had told all she knew. Asked how she happened to do this, she said that she was very nervous at that extraordinary time and that she had more than she had to. Asked if she was any more nervous than she was at the present hearing, she said yes, and that she was not at all nervous now.

BUDWEISER

In Glass from the Kettle to the Lip

Budweiser as it leaves the brew kettles is conveyed into Glass-Enameled fermenting vats. After fermentation it is lagered (aged) from four to five months in Glass-Lined Steel Tanks before it is bottled. 200 mammoth Glass Tanks in this building (Stock House No. 10) are required for this purpose. The capacity of these tanks is 200,000 barrels or 62,000,000 bottles of Budweiser.

Budweiser is, therefore, in Glass from the time it is brewed until it is consumed.

This huge building, 347 feet long, 98 feet wide and 7 stories high, contains:

200 mammoth Glass Enameled Steel Tanks used solely for the lagering (ageing) of Budweiser.

Each Glass Tank weighs 16 Tons, is 70 feet long, 9 feet in diameter, and holds 1,000 barrels of beer.

The combined capacity of the 200 tanks is 200,000 Barrels, or 62,000,000 Bottles of Budweiser.

These Glass Enameled Steel Tanks were manufactured and installed by

It required eight months' time to manufacture them, and over five miles of freight cars to deliver them to the Brewery.

This however is only the first installment. The proved superiority of glass over wood for the lagering and storing of Beer has decided the Anheuser-Busch Brewing Ass'n to equip the entire brewery with these Glass Enameled Tanks.

MINISTER SELECTS A SECRET COMMITTEE TO INVESTIGATE ALLEGED GRAFT

Rev. William M.
Jones on Success or Honor.

The chief change affecting the situation is in the standards of financial success and failure. Once, only poverty that pinches was called failure. Now a man is accounted a failure if his business who does not get somewhat greatly more than a competency. Once a comfortable home and income sufficient to educate one's children, provide wholesome recreation and genial and helpful social connections, bear a due share in the public enterprises, and lay by something for the rainy days of life, was esteemed riches. Honorable men were content with that, and if more than that came as the result of their energies or the favorable tides of circumstance, they held themselves as stewards of humanity with regard to the surplus. But that does not spell 'success' in the terms of the world today. Success

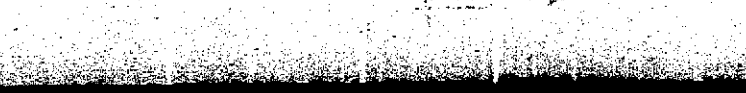

"To men who cut out Christianity because they think it incompatible with business success I would propound these questions: Do you really

"You would not be hypocrites. Seriously, friends, is there not a very considerable element of hypocrisy in your pretense of believing, or hastening to believe, that business success is impossible to a disciple of Christ, when what you really want is not fair and just returns for your contributions to the well-being of society but an unearned transfer to your pockets of the earnings of other men?"

In Great Britain the general election will continue. Saturday's decision, however, which should be made known by Sunday, makes it a foregone conclusion that the Government will have an ample working majority.

The election of a new President of the French Republic will be coincident with the convening of the French National Assembly on January 1. The Assembly will be made up of the Senate and Chamber of Deputies. President Loubet has announced that he will not be a candidate for re-election, which seems to leave the choice between Clement-Arnold and Failliot. The newly elected President will be elected for a five-year term. The President of the Chamber of Deputies. The former members of the Chamber apparently are considered by the public as the best qualified to succeed, but Premier Rouvier also has the following to say: "The President of the Chamber may develop in the future the political and administrative functions of the President of the Republic." In spite of Loubet's announced intention, it is possible that a candidate for re-election is possible he may receive

FOUR CHICAGO PASTORS BEGIN
COMPOSITE SERMON EX-PERIMENT.

CHICAGO, Jan. 15.—The first experiment in composite sermons in Chicago was made last night in four pulpits by four ministers of four different denominations, who had taken the same subject for their sermons and had studied together.

The subject of the first of the tetralogia of sermons was "The Betrayal of Citizenship." The discourses were delivered simultaneously by Jenkin Lloyd Jones in All Souls' Independent Church, the Rev. Willard B. Thorp in South Congregational Church, Dr. R. F. Fuller in Memorial Baptist Church and the Rev. J. H. MacDonald in Oakland Methodist Episcopal Church.

The four different pastors were unanimous in declaring the betrayal of citizenship to be nothing less than treason.

ELLIOT'S POSITION.

Councillor A. H. Elliot, when asked if he had heard anything from Mr. Whitaker with reference to a further investigation of public affairs here, said:

"No, I have heard nothing from Mr. Whitaker, and to be frank I do not much expect to hear anything further from him in regard to the corrupt case I discussed with him a while back, and which the City Council was sufficiently willing to investigate, to call Mr. Whitaker before it, and listen to what he had to say.

Trying Being Fair.

Some of our Los Angeles contemporaries seem unable to comprehend the attitude of the people of this section of the State. Because we will not submit tamely to detraction and abuse, we will not permit to go unchallenged false and derogatory reports of the climate, soil and productions of our part of California, it does not follow that we are jealous of either the prosperity or the enterprise of our Southern neighbors. We admire their grit and energy, and the astonishing developments they have made in their own region only give us pleasure. But we object to misrepresentation. We resent the publication of statements which libel the climate and resources of our section of the State. We are moved to say this by a recent article in the Los Angeles Herald, which opens in this characteristic vein:

"Oakland may weep and gnash its teeth and tear its hair over the wonderful resources and the splendid development of all that country south of Tehachapi; it may turn green with envy over the great inflow of immigration to Los Angeles and the achievements of enterprise and capital in this section, but when it comes to hogging all the big offices in California, Oakland wears the crown—over one ear, of course, but wears it."

It is needless to say that Oakland does not weep and gnash its teeth over anything; that it is not jealous of Los Angeles or any other place, and has no desire to check the immigration flowing into Southern California. Oakland is growing too fast to be jealous of anybody. She is too prosperous to begrudge prosperity to any other section of the State. In all her history she has furnished two Governors to the State, and she is proud of them both. Los Angeles have given California three Governors, and can take whatever pride is coming to her for them. One United States Senator is credited to Alameda county; Los Angeles has had two to her credit. So far as hunger for office is concerned, Los Angeles never gets enough. Like Oliver Twist, her cry is always for more.

After abusing Oakland to the extent of half a column, the Herald expresses itself sensibly and fraternally in these lines: "Oakland has many strong points of advantage, it is true. It is a city of beautiful homes, with a splendid surrounding country, and nobody has the least desire to quarrel with its people on their claims to a fine community. We are not surprised that such a city should have for its citizens such men as Metcalf, Perkins and Pardee, who do more or less honor to the great positions they occupy. The point of objection to Oakland is that some of its newspapers are constantly abusing and misrepresenting Los Angeles. If we glory in the advancement of Oakland, as we do, why should Oakland persist in saying ugly things about Los Angeles?"

This would be all right if it were not the closing paragraph of an article teeming with contumely and insult and did not emanate from the foremost detractor of Central and Northern California. If the Herald will be civil in speech and truthful in its references to this section of the State it will have no cause to complain of the newspapers up this way, but if it persists in being ill-natured and disparaging in speaking of Northern and Central California it must not complain if it is answered in like spirit. Let it be fair and neighborly and there will be good feeling all round.

John Burns' Extraordinary Address.

John Burns, the Labor Unionist member of the Liberal Cabinet, has issued an election address that has set the Primrose League to gasping with amazement and indignation. Probably the audacity of the labor leader in the British Parliament has inspired a feeling akin to fear in the breasts of the aristocracy. Mr. Burns not only demanded the abolition of the House of Lords, but also all "hereditary authorities," which, of course, includes the King and all others enjoying rank and privileges by virtue of blood and descent. It is, of course, rather startling to hear a member of the Cabinet of His Majesty the King demanding the abolition of the monarchy and the baronage, constituting two of the three estates of the realm. The demand of the right honorable member from Battersea for an eight-hour day, woman suffrage and salaries for members of the House of Commons sinks into comparative insignificance beside his serious proposal to do away with the crown and the hereditary nobility of England. It is somewhat surprising that a government minister, nominally a Cabinet adviser of the King, should propose anything so revolutionary, for there are few countries in which such a declaration would not be regarded as rank treason. The address shows that liberty of speech is as unhampered in Great Britain as it is in the United States. However, the English cut off the head of one King and chased another out of his kingdom, and the lesson seems to have impressed itself. When a candidate for the House of Commons can openly appeal for votes on a proposition that virtually involves overturning the government, the freedom of speech and opinion seems to be absolutely unrestricted. Of course the Liberal party is not responsible for John Burns' political principles, but it is responsible for his sitting in the Cabinet. For this reason the Burns address is all the more suggestive.

A floating paragraph in the Eastern papers says Franklin K. Lane is an advocate of the single tax theories of Henry George. So far as we know Mr. Lane has never expressed any opinions regarding the single tax. He has never affiliated with the single taxers, and in California has never been classed as a Henry George man. Probably some Eastern writer has confounded Mr. Lane with ex-Judge James G. Maguire, once a Democratic candidate for Governor, who is the foremost single tax advocate on the Pacific Coast.

One of the charges Poultny Bigelow brings against the Panama canal management is that a negro who shot a white man was convicted. Apparently Mr. Bigelow thinks the man who got shot should have been convicted, but leaves it to conjecture whether for being white or getting shot.

President Roosevelt has been made an honorary member of the Order of Red Men. Some of the Siwash in the Senate doubtless wish he were in the happy hunting grounds.

A Smelling Expedition Proposed

Rev. Robert Whitaker is still of a mind to go Parkhursting, or birdnesting, or whatever he chooses to call it. He writes a modest letter to Councilman Elliot, making an extraordinary proposition in lieu of the revelations of official graft and malfeasance he so confidently promised from the pulpit a short time ago. He suggests that the Council authorize him to appoint a smelling committee, empower the same to investigate all the municipal departments, and appropriate $500 to be expended as the committee sees fit. If the Council will do this, Mr. Whitaker says he will present proofs (to the committee of his own appointing) that there is mismanagement of the city's affairs and waste and misuse of the public funds. But if his committee investigates, spends the money and finds no criminality, what then? What good purpose will be served? It is all childish. If Mr. Whitaker has any knowledge of corruption, as he so emphatically alleged in his pulpit, let him make it public, or at least impart it to the proper authorities. Nobody asked him to investigate the affairs of the municipality or expert them for the satisfaction of himself and the political sore-heads who are prompting him, indirectly if not directly, in his attacks on the city government. He made certain definite charges without naming the guilty parties or specifying how the public funds were being stolen and misappropriated. There was a demand for proofs and for specific information as to who the guilty persons are. The desired proofs and information he would not give, if he could, but after pondering the matter over he asks the Council to give him the money and authority to make an ex-parte and unofficial investigation avowedly hostile in spirit and purpose to the whole body of municipal officers—in other words, to go on a smelling expedition with a pack of his own choosing in the hope of scaring up some sort of game that will give the color of justification for his wholesale charges. The Council had better let Mr. Whitaker do his own investigating at his own expense, and if there be $500 to spare in the city treasury spend it in laying down a few crosswalks. Mr. Whitaker is not to be taken seriously in this matter.

ROMA'S LATEST SONG.

Let not your hearts, your weary hearts be troubled,
And neither let them be afraid;
For every doubt, each little care, each sorrow,
Into some unknown, precious blessing is made.
Have ye no faith, that ye can doubt the promise
That He who listens still shall answer prayer?
Have ye no hope, that e'en thro' earthly tears
Ye cannot see Heaven's rainbow shining there?

Even the hairs upon thy head are numbered,
Thou art so precious in thy Father's sight;
For He who holds earth's waters in his hand
Protects and watches o'er a little sparrow's flight.
Think not thy cross is heaviest of all,
For He of Calvary doth suffer still with thee.
All earthly sorrow is but heavenly gain,
In God's own time, all will be well with thee.

GOOD INTENTIONS.

Old Nick sat below and he chortled with glee
As he listened to sounds from above.
"They're having hot times on the earth,
too, just now,
A-seeking themselves to improve.
Now, listen, my lads: you can rest for awhile,
Your time and your labor be saving;
Good-intention foundries are working overtime
For our annual, manual paying.

"They're making big bricks of the best looking straw,
And loading them up by the ton;
Be sure to have furnaces down here
red-hot,
To heat them up well when they're done,
And really so hard are these mortals
at work
That, despite the rule now in high favor,
I'll give some a pass o'er the road they have made
With such wearisome, dreariness labor.

"The great, brilliant deeds they are going to do,
The big sins shut down upon hard,
Will make splendid blocks in their beauty and size
For our much-needed new boulevard.
The moderate resolves will do for our trade streets,
If their style with last year's fairly tallies,
And the mean little skimping, the halting and crimping,
Do for dirty and perky back alleys."

"Yes," said Old Nick again, and he laughed out so loud
The clinders flew out on the gale,
Till it looked like a Fourth-of-July fireworks show,
And made the big furnace turn pale.
"Tis the first of the year—good-intentation crop time;
On the smooth downward path I am saying:
From earth to my portals these well-meaning mortals
Are doing and reeling my paving."
—S. W. Gilman, in Baltimore American.

A CANADIAN OPINION OF PUNCH.

A copy of Punch's Almanac has been received at this office. It is England's leading exponent of humor. A member of this great journal's staff, read it through carefully and studied every drawing. Then he went outside and kicked at a strange dog. The English brand of humor is sedate and stately. It is not intended to be laughed at. "Laughter, that is loud laughter, is excessive rude, don't you know? Punch's Almanac for 1906 is sixpence of humor profundo. The man who would laugh at Punch would go into hysterics at a funeral. Punch's notion of humor is altogether too sublime for any place outside of an English drawing-room.—Bobcay-geon (Ont.) Independent.

TWO IMPORTANT DECISIONS.

The Appellate Division declares un-relates to liquor licenses already granted and the law which prohibits an employer from requiring his employees to sign a liquor licenses were issued before the Ambler bill became a law its effect is postponed a year by this decision.

The upsetting of the non-union contract law is more lasting in its effect, and nothing but a constitutional amendpeals can avoid it. It was an amendment to the Penal Code making it a criminal

TRAVELS FAR TO WED LOVER OF 19 YEARS AGO

PORTLAND, Jan. 15.—Separated for nineteen years, she on the Atlantic and he on the Pacific Coast, Miss Irene Mayfield, of Skowhegan, Me., has arrived here to wed her lover of long ago, Sam Spencer, a logger of Yale, Wash.

Spencer came to the coast nineteen years ago, leaving his sweetheart at Skowhegan, promising to send for her as soon as circumstances permitted, when they would be married. After wandering from one city to another, he finally became interested in the lumber business, from which he has made, after years of hard work, enough money to write his sweetheart to come to Portland at once, and to promise her everlasting happiness.

Arriving at Portland today, Spencer secured a marriage license, and has everything in readiness for an immediate wedding. The happy couple will soon be speeding away on their honeymoon.

Spencer is forty-eight years old, and Miss Mayfield thirty-eight.

JOKE ON WOMEN WHO WORE HATS AT LUNCHEON

LONDON, Jan. 15.—The Earl of Sandwich, who has been entertaining a good deal of late at his place, Hatchingbrook, has a perfect horror of women who sit down to luncheon with their hats on. He is even opposed to allowing women to enter a church with their heads covered.

The other day the Earl was entertaining a week-end party, and several of the women, who had not been given a hint of the Earl's pet "crank," came to luncheon all ready dressed, hatted and veiled for the afternoon motor drive.

The Earl disappeared from the dining-room and presently reentered, accompanied by the solemn butler and three footmen, all wearing top hats as they passed the dishes around. The women "tumbled" to the hint at once and retired in confusion, while the Earl went on placidly with his meal.

One of the Earl's last distinguished guests was Madame Melba, who sang without being asked after dinner—a very rare occurrence with the great singer.

Many people cling to sponges, although they are not supposed to be as sanitary as rough washcloths, because the sponges cannot be boiled. If properly cared for sponges are really quite sanitary. Only one person should use one sponge and the sponge when not in use should be kept hanging in the air. An authority advises washing a sticky sponge in milk, which process wonderfully renews it.

A charming novelty for the housewife is a set of coquilles in which any dainty entrée may be baked, roasted, or merely browned off after other cooking. In a taut framework of copper are placed a dozen little covered dishes of snow-white china with a scattered rosebud decoration. This costs $18.50. A lighter all-copper wire frame accommodates six coquilles and costs, complete, $8.

CONVENTION OF MINISTERS ATTACK DIVORCE LAWS OF CALIFORNIA

LOS ANGELES, Jan. 15.—The Interdenominational Divorce Committee of Los Angeles will launch its crusade against the evils which it purposes to combat by striking a blow for remedial legislation.

The committee met yesterday afternoon and decided upon two lines of battle, both or only one of which may be chosen, the final choice to be determined by expediency. The two measures are:

To petition Congress to enact a national divorce law, in case it shall be found feasible.

To secure amendments to the California statutes bearing on divorce.

The committee, which comprises three ministers from each denomination of the evangelical churches, and two laymen, appears to be deeply in earnest. The members say that the researches into divorce statistics, which are thus far only superficial, have appalled them.

"You may truthfully say," declared F. M. Moody, secretary of the body, "that there are practically no divorces denied in Los Angeles county."

"We should not criticize the judges," cautioned Attorney J. H. Merriam of Pasadena, who is a member of the committee. "I am convinced that our Superior Court judges are conscientious men, who strive to get at the bottom of all cases coming before them."

"That is right," agreed Rev. Will A. Knighten, who has earned the title of "the marrying preacher." I have married 2000 couples in Southern California, and am ready to say that our judges would undoubtedly stem the evil if they could.

"But it is not the fault of the judges; the fault lies with the terrible conditions into which lax divorce laws have plunged us."

Attorney Merriam defended the California divorce laws. "They are much better laws than you will find in many other States," he declared, and there is much to be said in their favor."

"How about cases of desertion, non-support and cruelty?" asked Dr. R. F. McLaren, chairman of the committee. "It seems to me that more suits are brought upon these grounds than on all others combined, and yet how flimsy such charges may be and how easy collusion becomes."

"And this question comes up: What are we, as ministers, to do about remarrying a divorced person? It seems to me that we should refuse to marry a guilty party. I would go further and say that the State should mete out punishment for the one who is shown in the suit to be the offender."

"I personally don't believe in marrying any person who has been divorced, whether as plaintiff or defendant," said Rev. W. F. Hubbard, of the Episcopal Church. "My church, however, makes an exception in favor of one who has secured a separation on Scriptural grounds."

"We can't always tell which is the innocent party," ventured Rev. Warren F. Day, who has joined hundreds in wedlock.

"Often times," said Mr. Knighten, "the real reason for the divorce is infidelity, but divorce is procured on other grounds to spare the feelings of the guilty person's family."

"Or to save the plaintiff from humiliation," added Mr. Merriam.

"I know of a case in this city concerning a well known family which bears out that view," said Mr. Day. "The man and many of his friends knew that his wife was untrue to him, yet the divorce papers did not mention such a thing."

"In nine cases out of ten you will get left if you try to go behind the records of the court," said Mr. Hubbard.

That question most delicate to clergymen, as to what conditions shall govern in the remarrying of divorced persons, was only touched upon. With zeal and unanimity they attacked the divorce laws, especially those of some other States, and decided that a national law should be enacted. Or, if not that, then uniform laws throughout the States of the Union.

The committee has been engaged so far in preliminary work, but expects to storm the city and finally the State with its reformatory ideas when they shall have been drafted.

A resolution was adopted explaining that a previous resolution, which might be interpreted as censorious of Superior Court judges of this county, should not be taken in any such spirit.

$500,000 HEIRESS TELLS OF HER STRUGGLE FOR BREAD

BY KATHRYNE GRAY.

Miss Gray is a Vassar graduate, who has been employed as a domestic, and just came into the possession of a fortune of $500,000, which has been kept from her for years.

PITTSBURG, Jan. 15.—Now that I am to come into possession of a fortune of almost half a million dollars, which, I believe, has been wilfully kept from me for twenty-five years, I can look back on the past seven years of my life, which have been so full of tribulations, and laugh at the humorous side. But I pray for protection to other girls who may have to pass through such experiences.

Born thirty years ago in Norfolk, Va., the daughter of Senator Asbury Gray, who was known to be worth $500,000, my mother was taken from me almost immediately after my entrance into the world. My father, soon after her death, went to California, while I was taken by my uncle, John Gray of 1256 Main street, Richmond, Va. When I was seven my father died in California, and the only time I saw him was when they brought his body home.

HER FORTUNE LOST.

My uncle and aunt treated me very kindly, and I grew up as their daughter. All through life they told me that my father had left a fortune for me, but that it had been lost. But my uncle always promised that I should be his heiress. I was given every advantage that a young girl of prominent family should have, and after I had graduated from a preparatory school at Hollidaysburg I went to Vassar, where I remained during the terms of '93 and '94.

When I left school and returned to my home in Richmond, I was importuned by my uncle to marry an old friend of his, a man old enough to be my father. I refused. My uncle persisted and finally gave me the ultimatum of "doing as he wished or leaving his home." I chose the latter.

I went to Philadelphia, where I lived with my aunt, Mrs. Joseph Johnston of North Fifteenth street, and afterwards with another aunt, Mrs. Benjamin Johnston of Swarthmore. I knew that I must secure employment of some kind. I taught music for a time, and did fancy work, but could not make both ends meet. Then I realized that I would have to do something else.

I visited every store in Philadelphia, trying to secure work as a clerk, but it was always the same story: "Bring your references from your last employer." Finally I realized that there was nothing left for me to do but housework, of which I was wholly ignorant. I went to New York, where I secured a place as handmaid to an actress named Jessie Milworth. I was so disgusted at the expiration of three weeks that I quit and returned to Philadelphia without letting my relatives know where I had been. Then I discovered that my uncle was hunting me again, and hurriedly left.

I came to Pittsburg because this was the first place I thought of where I could lose my identity. I read the papers and found that I could secure employment as a housemaid with Mrs. E. H. Bausman, 7225 MacPherson street. Here I came, and here I have been ever since.

I did not want to deceive Mrs. Bausman and told her part of my story. What I passed through during these first few weeks no one will ever know. The work almost killed me and I would be so tired when evening came that I would go to my bed and remain there until morning. The first meal I tried to cook I burned up, and at my first attempt at washing I ruined the clothes. But they were very kind to me and put up with my shortcomings.

All of my spare time I spent in reading cook books and trying to acquire a knowledge of housework. Just as I have succeeded in it all I find I have come into the fortune that should have been mine years ago. As soon as the money is paid to me I intend to take a long rest.

To any girl, with only a college education, thrown upon her own resources, I extend my profound sympathy. I found that it did me no good in securing work, and that I finally had to learn when I was a woman what I should have learned as a child—housework. I am proud of the fact that I have been a domestic servant, and shall be proud of it all my life.

ing at the home of the bride's mother. Half a hundred relatives and friends will attend and the officiating clergyman will be the Rev. J. C. Bolster of the Centennial Methodist Church.

Mr. Stowe and his bride will enjoy a honeymoon trip and on their return will reside in this city.

FOR BRIDES-ELECT.

Mrs. Dudley Kinsell has sent out cards for an informal card party to be given next Saturday at her home in San Leandro. The complimented guests will be Miss Elizabeth Gray and Miss Emily Chickering, and a delightful afternoon is in prospect.

Miss Chickering will again be the complimented guest at a luncheon which Miss Mabel Hogg is planning to give on Thursday, January 25.

Mr. and Mrs. Walter Starr entertain at dinner next Friday evening for the same charming guest of honor.

MUSICAL EVENING.

St. Andrew's Episcopal Church announces a musical evening and church benefit, to be held in the guild rooms on Monday evening, January 22.

The arrangements are elaborate and a successful evening is promised.

EURYDICE CLUB.

The Eurydice Club has sent out cards for the second concert this season, to be given Thursday evening, January 25, at Hamilton Auditorium, on Twelfth and Jefferson streets.

Mrs. Grace Davis Northup is the director.

AN ENGAGEMENT.

The engagement is announced of Miss Verna Edgren, daughter of Rev. and Mrs. J. A. Edgren, to Carlos G. White, son of the late Carlos White and Mrs. Walter E. Logan.

Miss Edgren is well known in social circles, is a graduate of the Oakland High School, and a sister of Robert Edgren, cartoonist and associate editor of the New York Evening World. Mr. White is a graduate of the University of California with the class of 1904 and a member of the Phi Beta Kappa fraternity.

The marriage will take place next summer and the young people will make their home in this city.

WEDDING DATE.

Mr. and Mrs. Sam S. Green of Alameda announce that the wedding of their daughter, Miss Cecilia Green, and Morris Z. Douglas, of San Francisco, will take place Sunday, February 4, at the Hotel Metropole.

PLAYED CARDS.

Dr. Pauline Nustanmer and Dr. Vida Redington entertained recently at a card party given at the home of the latter on Tenth street, in honor of Dr. and Mrs. Mark Lewis Emerson, whose marriage took place last month. Some forty friends participated in an enjoyable game of hearts, the prizes being carried off by Miss Shoemaker, Mrs. W. K. Sanborn, Dr. A. H. Pratt and Jesse Dibert.

Included among the players—mostly friends of the guests of honor—were: Dr. and Mrs. Benjamin Bakewell, Dr. and Mrs. S. H. Buteau, Dr. and Mrs. C. H. Rowe, Dr. and Mrs. A. H. Pratt, Dr. and Mrs. Francis Musser, Dr. and Mrs. Guy Lillencrans, Judge and Mrs. Emil Nustanmer, Mrs. George Nustanmer, Dr. and Mrs. W. K. Sanborn, Judge T. W. Harris, Miss Lena Redington, Miss Olive Dibert, Miss Eva Yorker, Miss Vita Sherman, Miss Leet, Miss Shoemaker, Miss Katherine Potter, Dr. and Mrs. Lilley, Dr. A. S. Kelley, Will Gorrill, Professor Walter H. Graves, Eugene Thurston, Jesse Dibert, Dr. Clarence Fredericks and others.

BIRTHDAY PARTY.

One of the delightful events of last week was the birthday luncheon at which Miss Sallie Long, the little daughter of General and Mrs. Oscar Fitzalon Long, entertained a dozen young friends.

It was the sixth birthday anniversary of the little hostess, and her guests included Amy Long, Elsie Leet, Sallie Havens, Frances Sharon, Ruth Sharon, Marion Kegan, Amy Requa, Alice Requa, Hathaway Gowing and Frances Bunnell.

CABLE-STRATTON.

The marriage of Miss Lillian Cable of this city and Dr. Stratton of San Francisco was quietly solemnized today at the home of the bride's parents, on Twenty-second street. The ceremony was witnessed by the family connections only, and after a brief honeymoon trip, Dr. Stratton and his bride are to make their home in San Francisco.

INFORMAL AFFAIR.

Miss Olive Dibert and her brother Jesse Dibert entertained a score of friends last evening at an informal

SAYS WOMEN WILL RULE UNITED STATES IN 50 YEARS

PITTSBURG, Jan. 15.—Chancellor Samuel B. McCormick, of the Western University of Pennsylvania, commented today on the speech he made on Thursday evening before the Current Topic Club. During his remarks then, he said that owing to the fact that there are four girls attending the high schools of the country to every boy and that a number of universities had placed a limit on the female students to be admitted, women eventually, say in fifty years, will outdistance men in public affairs. He said today:

"My address before the Current Topic Club did not deal exclusively with that subject. I merely introduced the remarks about the large attendance of girls at high schools as compared with boys, which is a statistical fact that we men had better take warning and look out.

"I have not given the subject great thought and would not repeat it that women will outdistance men in fifty years. But judging from the manner in which women are seeking for knowledge in our higher schools, they cannot but help in time making headway. This is true of all classes that seek higher education."

Dr. McCormick was asked for a further expression as to the falling off in attendance at the high schools by boys, but he refused to make any reply to the question.

WOMAN BUYS FORTUNE IN BIBLE FOR FEW CENTS

PHILADELPHIA, Jan. 15.—Under curious circumstances Miss Bertha Johnston, of Malvern, this State, this week discovered that she was the sole heiress to an estate amounting to over $10,000, which had been left by her aged cousin, Mrs. Emily Robinson. Incidentally the story is one of disappointed relatives who had expected to obtain Mrs. Robinson's fortune, and a reward for Miss Johnston for a life spent in loving care of her cousin.

When, a score of years ago, Mrs. Robinson's husband died she was thought to be a widow with scarcely sufficient property to provide her support. She had several nephews and nieces, who, although they were better supplied with worldly goods than Mrs. Robinson, failed to offer her a home or give her any financial aid. Miss Johnston, who was a more distant relative, had been left a home by the death of her father and she promptly offered to share it with Mrs. Robinson, which the latter accepted.

It was not long after this that a valuable limestone quarry was found on some supposedly worthless land which belonged to Mrs. Robinson. This was sold and the widow and her kind-hearted cousin were enabled to more

About a year ago Mrs. Robinson died. A search was made of her effects without discovering a will, and one of the nephews who had failed to aid her in her time of need was appointed to administer the estate. Preparations were made to divide her property among the nephews and nieces to the exclusion of Miss Johnston.

To finally close the estate, the widow's few articles of personal property were offered at public sale last week. Determined to have some keepsake of her cousin, Miss Johnston attended the sale. At last the old Bible with which Mrs. Robinson had spent many comforting moments in her declining years was put up. The bidding was started, but no one seemed anxious to acquire the volume, and Miss Johnston secured the well-worn book for a few cents. The auctioneer handed it down to her, and as he did so, a neatly folded paper fell from it. Opening it Miss Johnston found it to be a will, duly signed and witnessed, by the terms of which Mrs. Robinson had left her entire estate to her benefactor.

The nearer relatives consulted counsel in an endeavor to have the will broken, but without receiving encouragement.

gathering in honor of Miss Ann Frances White, whose marriage to Philip Dibert is to take place this coming week. Among those bidden were: Mr. and Mrs. Albert H. Elliot, Mr. and Mrs. A. P. Steffert, Misses Catherine and Helen White, Miss Lena Redington, Dr. Vida Redington, Mr. and Mrs. Frost of San Francisco, Mr. Howard, William Basil White and several others.

CARD CLUB.

Mr. and Mrs. Charles Evans entertained a group of card players Friday evening at their home on Tenth street. The membership of the newly organized card club includes Mr. and Mrs. Raymond Kitchener, Mr. and Mrs. H. H. Kegan, Mr. and Mrs. Oliver Ellsworth, Mr. and Mrs. H. H. Hoffman, Mr. and Mrs. Fred Titus and Mr. and Mrs. Charles Evans.

WEDDING PLANS.

The marriage of Miss Clara Boardman, daughter of Mrs. M. V. Boardman of Thirty-fifth street, and Frank Rawson, the young attorney, will take place Wednesday evening, February 7.

It will be a home wedding and the decorations will be pink and green. Included in the wedding party is Miss Myrtle Fillmore, a niece of the groom, as maid of honor; two little flower girls, Helen Rawson and Anna Edgar, and Master Robert Edgar as ring bearer. One of the features will be the eleven girl friends of the bride, who will act as garland bearers, forming an aisle through which the bride party will pass. These friends are: Miss Laura Fenton, Miss Myrtle Smith,

Miss Edna Ford, Miss Rose O'Rourke, Miss Emma Reeseague, Miss Jessie Hardenburg, Mrs. George S. Ames, Miss Bessie Cotton, Miss Grace Hostetter, Miss Clara Brown and Miss Gertrude Mansfield.

ENGAGEMENT NEWS.

The engagement of George Barrington and Miss Grace Amann, of Medford, Or., is the occasion for much congratulation for the popular young business man. He is a brother of Mrs. John Norton Pomeroy and Mrs. Walter Gannon and has a host of friends about the bay.

Miss Amann has made her home in this city for several months and the wedding will probably take place in May.

Mr. Barrington was for some time with the local agency of the Denver and Rio Grande Railroad with John A. Beckwith, but has been with Ellers' music house in San Francisco recently.

WRITERS' CLUB.

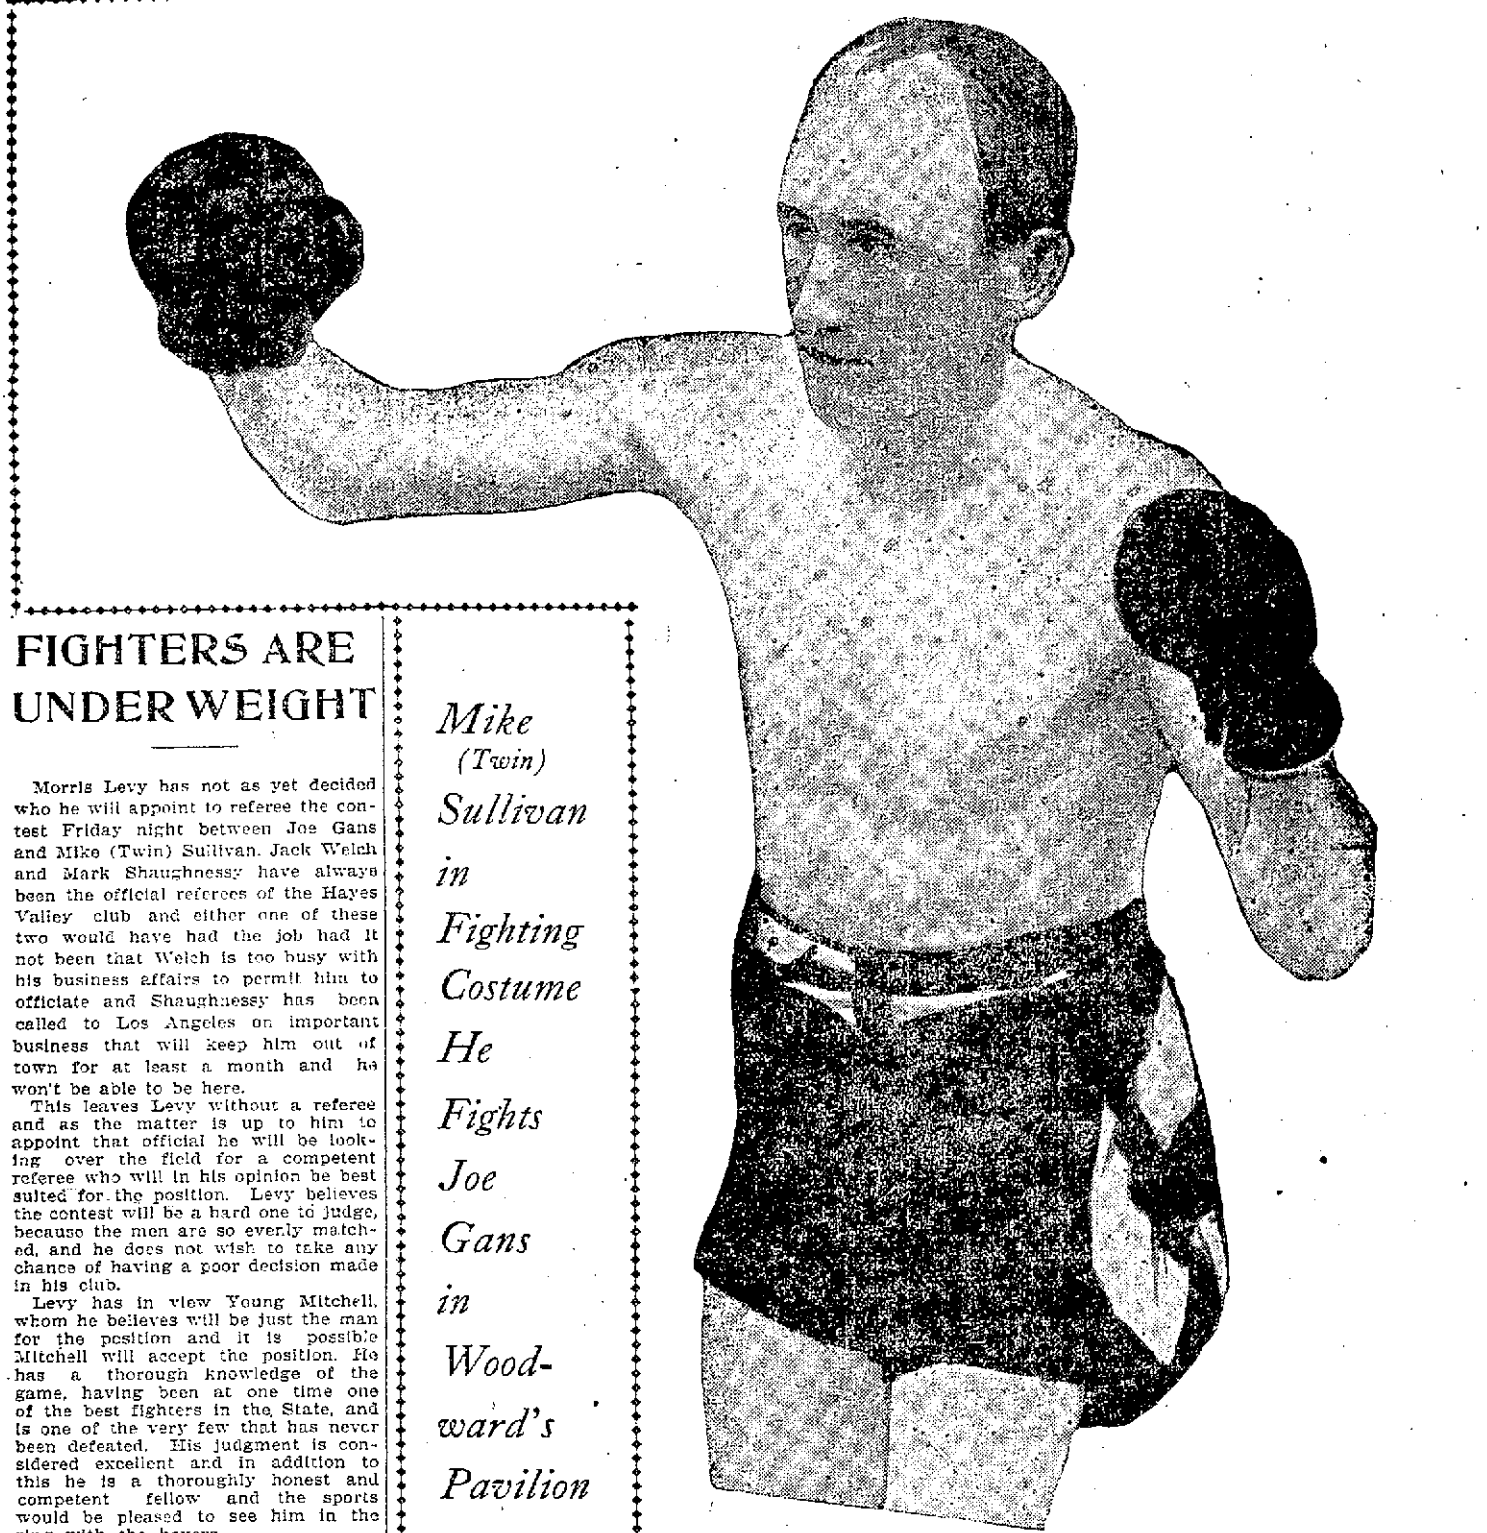

Mr. and Mrs. J. E. Baker entertained the members of the Writers' Club Friday evening at their home on Webster street. Mrs. Albert Smith read two clever poems and Miss Charlotte Canty read a Spanish love story. The original work received complimentary comment and the evening was concluded with an informal supper.

Mr. and Mrs. Baker's guests included Mrs. Albert Smith, Miss Olive Dibert, Miss Edna Kinard, Miss Charlotte Canty, A. J. McKnight, Miss Julia Fraser, Miss Helen Powell, Jesse Dibert, A. W. Compton, Mr. and Mrs. Kinard.

LEVY PONDERES OVEY REFEREE FOR GANS-SULLIVAN BATTLE

FIGHTERS ARE UNDER WEIGHT

Morris Levy has not as yet decided who he will appoint to referee the contest Friday night between Joe Gans and Mike (Twin) Sullivan. Jack Welch and Mark Shaughnessy have always been the official referees of the Hayes Valley club and either one of these two would have had the job had it not been that Welch is too busy with his business affairs to permit him to officiate and Shaughnessy has been called to Los Angeles on important business that will keep him out of town for at least a month and he won't be able to be here.

This leaves Levy without a referee and as the matter is up to him to appoint that official he will be looking over the field for a competent referee who will in his opinion be best suited for the position. Levy believes the contest will be a hard one to judge, because the men are so evenly matched, and he does not wish to take any chance of having a poor decision made in his club.

Levy has in view Young Mitchell, whom he believes will be just the man for the position and it is possible Mitchell will accept the position. He has a thorough knowledge of the game, having been at one time one of the best fighters in the state, and is one of the very few that has never been defeated. His judgment is considered excellent and in addition to this he is a thoroughly honest and competent fellow and the sports would be pleased to see him in the ring with the boxers.

Gans and Sullivan are now completing their training and both are in magnificent condition. Gans has cut boxing and will not put on a glove again until he enters the ring with the Twin. Yesterday he went out on the muddy roads in Alameda and sprinted six miles at top speed. He worked well in the gymnasium and concluded the afternoon's work with a four round bout with big Mike Schreck which pleased the crowd immensely and convinced them that he was "there with the goods."

Sullivan put in a hard day of it over at San Rafael. In the morning he went out on the road with Eddie Rahn and in the afternoon he entertained a big crowd of sports with a clever exhibition of bag punching. His boxing bout with his brother Jack was one of those exciting affairs that are brim full of action. Sullivan will put on the gloves again tomorrow night when he will be out against Mike Schreck which will be a very close and out-drawn contest. Mike says he weighs 135 pounds, which is a pound more than Gans weighs at the present time.

FORMER NOTED ATHLETE IS INSANE

REDDING, Jan. 15.—James Blakemore, a student at the University of California, where he won the highest athletic honors for putting the shot and high vaulting, is again insane. He was arrested at his home in Lewiston, in Tri-county, last week, and found insane at Weaverville Saturday by a commission.

He passed through Redding last evening in custody of two officers on his way to the hospital for the insane at Napa. Blakemore first went insane about November 17th at Berkeley. He was treated for a week or two at a sanatorium, but was discharged as cured, and sent to his home at Lewiston.

Except for occasional spells of melancholia he appeared to have recovered until a week ago, when he became violent. He was arrested and taken to Weaverville, where the physicians who examined him reported that he was injured two years ago in a football game when he received a kick on the nose, which left him subject to headaches. That injury, overstimulation and lack of exercise are given as the cause of his insanity.

He can retain no food, and is weak both in body and mind. A plant of strength at the University track meets, Blakemore last night was carried aboard the train by two deputy sheriffs because he was too weak to walk, and too feeble in mind to know what was going on.

President Garry Herrmann, of the Cincinnati Reds, denied that he will give First Baseman Charley Carr to Brooklyn. Herrmann says he does not owe anything to the Brooklyn Club.

HORNETS WIN TEAM EXPRESSES REGRET FRIENDLY GAME AT DEPARTURE OF HARRIS

There was no match on the Presidio athletic ground in San Francisco yesterday between the Oakland Hornets and the Santa Cruz association football team for the championship of the California League. Late on Saturday night the Santa Cruz footballers telephoned that an account of the storm they would not be able to go to San Francisco yesterday. The match was postponed.

The Oakland Hornets Reserves were scheduled to play a match against the Olympic Club team, but the latter did not put in an appearance. The Hornets first eleven played a friendly match against the Reserves, for whom they proved altogether too strong, scoring five goals to one in the first period. After the intermission the first eleven added three goals and the Reserves one goal to their scores. At the call of time the score read: Hornets, 8 goals; Reserves, 2 goals. For the Hornets Mackenzie and Chambers on the right wing did good deeds of pretty passing and dodging.

L. H. Isorn was referee and the teams lined up as follows:

Hornets.	Positions.	Reserves.
Maxine	Goal	W. McGregor
Scott	Goal	R. B. ...
Van Helms	L. B.	W. Wilson
Christensen	R. H. B.	McClelland

SCRAP ENDS CONTEST.

The Albion Rovers and Vampires met in a league game at Freeman's Park, Oakland, yesterday. The cause of the meeting was ostensibly to play a football game, but early in the second half, however, the referee, and Lydon of the Rovers began scrapping, and the contest came to an abrupt conclusion. The game, while it lasted, was well contested. The Rovers succeeded in netting the ball shortly after the re-start, but the play was disallowed by the referee. The Albions rebelled against the decision, and the referee was the recipient of much verbal abuse from some irresponsible persons on the sidelines.

Schmitt, of the Vampires, sent in a shot from long range which the Albion goalkeeper fumbled, and when the referee awarded the "Vamps" a goal he was immediately surrounded in a threatening manner by the Rovers and their supporters. During the course of the melee Lydon and the referee started to mix things with the result that the former was ordered off the field. The pugnaous Lydon, however, was disposed to remain and he was too weak to walk, and too feeble in mind to know what was going on.

President Garry Herrmann, of the Cincinnati Reds, denied that he will give First Baseman Charley Carr to Brooklyn. Herrmann says he does not owe anything to the Brooklyn Club.

The members of the San Francisco baseball team have sent the following testimonial of their regard to Henry Harris, who is yielding the management of the team to others, after having sold a controlling interest in the club's stock:

"SAN FRANCISCO, Jan. 13, 1906.

"MR. HENRY HARRIS—Dear Sir: It is with a feeling of genuine regret that we learn of your retirement from baseball. In all your dealings with us you have been a fair and honest man, and we have lost its most valued friend on the Coast. By clean, honest business methods you have succeeded in building up one of the strongest leagues in the country, and have established a high standard artistically for baseball on the coast.

BOWLERS WIN LONG FIGHT BY THREE PINS

CHICAGO, Jan. 15.—Amid a scene of great excitement, Frank Bartsch and David Woodbury, South Side bowlers, last night won a twenty-four hour tournament by a margin of three pins in a total of nearly 11,000 pins. Phil Wolf, the former New Yorker, and J. Reilly, the stockyards player, were second, while thirty-eight pins behind them came E. Vollmar and C. Mountain. Frank Brill, the former National champion, and R. Rolfe, who with E. Stretch, won the two-men National championship at Milwaukee, were fourth.

Each pair rolled fifty-five games, the winners having the fine average of 125 17-55, Wolfe and Reilly getting 125 14-55. Mountain and Vollmar notched 194 31-55, and Brill and Rolfe, 122 30-55.

The prizes were $165, $112, $58 and $4. Frank Brill took the special prize of $10 for high game with 276.

The teams and their totals were as follows:

F. Bartsch-D. Woodbury, 10,742; P. Wolf-J. Reilly, 10,739; E. Vollmar-C. Mountain, 10,701; F. Brill-R. Rolfe, 10,692; C. Collier-W. Flenner, 10,638; G. Banghart-W. Koenig, 10,431; A. Mahoney-A. WEST OAKLAND CLUB'S BOUTS PROMISE WELL

The card of boxing bouts which takes place at the West Oakland Club Wednesday evening are attracting a great deal of attention, and no doubt a very large crowd will be on hand to witness the goes. All the contestants are in fine trim and apparently fit to put up red hot battles.

The first go, between Young Britt and Ed Weber should be a good one. Both are lively lads who have shown up well heretofore.

last month's show in a decisive manner, and gained many friends by his excellent work. Britt beat his man at a recent contest in two rounds, and is regarded by many as a "winner."

Sport McAllister and Ed Carter are also expected to put up a rattling go. Both lads are husky ones and there is apt to be a mix-up from start to finish.

The next bout brings out Sam Ross and William Ward. These two have a little difficulty to settle and the consequence will be a vigorous set-to.

Mussa Byrne and Kid Lewis clash in the next bout. Byrne is well known in Oakland, where his fights have always been good ones. His opponent is of the same class as Mussa and an excellent bout should result.

J. Jones and Toby Eberhart meet in the next bout. Jones is a Reliance favorite, where he is looked upon as a cracker-jack for some of his experience. He has beaten Young Gaulty and can certainly go some.

His opponent comes from San Francisco with a reputation as a mixer, and when these two come together an interesting go should be in order.

Ed Bell is confidently looked forward to as a "cocker." Label has met and defeated the best men in his class in San Francisco and can be relied upon for a fast bout. He knows every point of the game, and has a punch either hand. Bell comes from Denver, Colorado, with a good reputation. That he carries a knock out punch around with him he demonstrated last month, when he put Kid Franks away with three blows. Both men are in excellent trim.

George Simpson will referee the bouts, which start at 8:45, sharp.

According to critics Brooklyn has the best of the big match in Jimmy Casey since the days of Lave Cross and Charley Irwin.

Tom Reilly, chief of umpires in the Connecticut League, has been elected Mayor of Meriden.

Hugh Jennings will again assist in the coaching at Cornell next spring. The freckle-faced infielder is very popular in Ithaca.

Louis Griger and Jesse Tannchell, of the Boston Americans, and Tom Doran, of Detroit, will leave Cincinnati shortly on a houseboat trip down the Ohio and Mississippi to New Orleans.

Wiley Platt the former Phillie, is looking for a major league engagement. A. H. Bill Clarke will not be with the Giants next season. They say the former Red is too slow a thinker for a championship aspirant.

President Dreyfus says that he will make several more changes before the season opens. He will trade Pat Flaherty and several other men.

President Kilroy, of the Cleveland Club, says the Highlanders have no chance to get Earl Moore, one of the Napoleons of the hitting staff.

NOTES OF THE DIAMOND

While the Pittsburgh fans are happy over the acquisition of Vic Willis they do not relish parting with Dave Brain and Del Howard.

From his home in Lewisburg, Pa., Christy Mathewson writes that he has had the plaster cast removed from his left arm and that his wrist is as long as ever.

From Columbia, Pa., the home of Jimmy Sheppard, comes the story that the Brooklyn outfielder, denies having signed a contract with the Chicago Club, and that he will trade Pat Flaherty next season. He will be given his unconditional release by Manager McGraw. Clarke has good offers from several minor league clubs and may manage one of them.

CAPT. FORCE TO MANAGE SKATING RINK

BERKELEY, Jan. 15.—Consternation reigned on the University campus today when it was learned that James A. Force, captain of the University football team, member of the exclusive Sigma Nu fraternity, and regarded as one of the prominent members in the so-called high society set in college, is to leave college and be the manager of a roller skating rink at San Jose. The spectacle of a famous University man manipulating the destinies of a rink where youths and maidens of high and low degree pique about on the giddy wheels, devoting the hours to executing fantastic figures, is expected to make the new rink in San Jose an enormous hit.

Force is not to be the only college star in the enterprise, however. With him, as associate manager, will be Louis Bunkach, of Stanford, a football star, who was captain of his team a year ago, and acted as assistant coach last fall. The two college men are both devotees of the sport of roller skating. Each is popular in society, each "has a way with him," and together they are expected to be invincible in San Jose.

Force has been one of the star performers at the new roller skating rink in Berkeley during the past term. His expertness has won him many admirers, who could hardly believe that his skill was the product of but three months' practice with the subtle rollers. Where the fancy skaters have congregated, there was Force in the midst of them, his graceful limbs excelling all others in the ability to glide, swan like but with surpassing speed, on the waxed floor of the casino. Contests where the prizes were given to the skater who could pick the most apples out of a barrel while going at full speed; contests calculated to test the nerve and daring of the participants; contests in which fair women and strong men vied strenuously for honors, have been ple for Force. He has shone with honor in each making monkeys out of his opponents, until his name became a synonym for bloodless victories on the roller skating battlefield. The enthusiasts expect to see his laurels increased at San Jose.

C. HALL IS TO JUMP FOR U. C.

BERKELEY, Jan. 15.—The ranks of the University athletes and the track team in particular are strengthened greatly by the addition of Channing Hall, the champion high jumper of the Oakland High School, who entered the University today as a member of the freshman class. The news that young Hall is to be a Californian, man created much satisfaction when announced yesterday. It had been reported during the summer that Stanford would get the crack young athlete because of a supposed predilection for the cardinal college, but the report was erroneous and the joy of the blue and gold follows is correspondingly great.

Hall as a high jumper is regarded as superior to any man on the Pacific Coast. His record of 6 feet 8 1/2 inches, made last year at the A. C. P. League meeting in Berkeley, startled the crowd and added immensely to Hall's prestige.

In private he has jumped 6 feet 4 inches. He is looked upon as a sure pointer winner for California.

last month's show in a decisive manner, and gained many friends by his excellent work. Britt beat his man at a recent contest in two rounds, and is regarded by many as a "winner."

Sport McAllister and Ed Carter are also expected to put up a rattling go. Both lads are husky ones and there is apt to be a mix-up from start to finish.

BRITT COMES BUT WILL RETURN

NEW YORK, Jan. 15.—Jimmy Britt, ex-champion lightweight, has left New York for San Francisco. Britt's principal reason for departure is to consult his brother regarding fighting dates they are laying plans to obtain, and matters in relation to the club in which they are interested.

While here Britt met Battling Nelson, and obtained a promise of a return match, providing the money squabble over the picture rights of their last fight is satisfactorily adjusted.

Jimmy also challenged the winner of the Nelson-McGovern fight, which was held next month, and obtained a definite promise from Terry that he would fight him if he defeated Nelson. Jimmy said that he would return shortly in time to witness Nelson's encounter with McGovern.

BOTHNER WILL DEFEND TITLE

World's Lightweight Champion Will Have Strong Backing in Match With Swanson.

George Bothner, the world's lightweight wrestling champion, who is to defend his title next Friday night against Alex Swanson of Harlem at the Grand Central Palace, will have plenty of backing in this battle, as his fellow members of the Pastime Athletic Club are ready to wager their last dollar on his chances against the Swede.

This bout will be the first one in the wrestling line fought at a weight limit in this city in some time, and the first big contest of the season. Bothner and Swanson are to weigh at the ringside 139 pounds or less. The weight is somewhat of a concession on the part of Bothner, who can easily do several pounds lighter. Swanson, on the other hand, is going through a severe course of training to take off the surplus flesh.

An excellent program of preliminary events is being arranged as a back-up to the big match of the night. The best little fellows in New York will be seen in these matches.

NOTES FROM LOS ANGELES

LOS ANGELES, Jan. 15.—The past week will long be remembered by favorite players for the number of popular choices that suffered defeat. Saturday Lotus and Dr. Leggo cost a small fortune to the big bettors, who eagerly took any odds on the chances of a sure thing variety. The books got back some of their previous losses.

The feature this week is the Asot Oaks, valued at $2200, for three-year-old fillies, at a mile. It will be run on Saturday, and unlike most such events, this promises to be a close contest. Of the entry-three entries, Flaptrap, Sam Fara, Oriens, Azora, Sufficiency, Alma Garcia, Silver Sue and Lacene are the most likely starters.

Wednesday another $1000 added handicap, at one mile and a sixteenth, will be decided.

The principal attention of horsemen of these parts is the Burns Handicap. Los Angeles last year sent the three-year-old Pasadena, who failed miserably. However, the South will make a good bid this season. Several horses are being specially prepared, the star being Mrs. L. Curtis' Eugenia Burch, who is scheduled to leave Asot about Tuesday, and unless Handicapper Expert overestimates her quality, Burch is to be a starter, with Johnny Dugan in the saddle.

This is the last week of Starter Dwyer at Asot, as he leaves Sunday to take up his duties at Oakland. His work with the barrier at Asot has been one of the most pleasing features of the Southern meeting, and many fans here wish him all kinds of success at Emeryville.

LOVING TRIBUTE TO MEMORY OF MRS. F. M. SMITH

Deep Appreciation is Shown by the Assembly in First Congregational Church.

Notwithstanding the dark and unpromising weather which threatened to develop into a heavy downpour of rain, the auditorium of the First Congregational Church was well filled yesterday afternoon by an interested and attentive audience to listen to the memorial services of Mrs. F. M. Smith, which were held there, beginning at 4 o'clock. The assembly was composed largely of the personal friends of this truly good woman, men and women who had known and loved her in life as a gentle and helpful companion and friend of humanity, and who gladly paid her this last tribute of fellowship and love.

The memorial services were held under the auspices of the Home Club, which Mrs. Smith founded and loved well, and the exercises presented were as follows:

An organ voluntary followed by the reading by Rev. Dr. J. H. McLean of the following scriptures: Proverbs 31st chapter; Matthew 25th chapter, 34 to 40; Revelations 7th chapter, 13 to 40. Rev. Dr. Charles R. Brown offered the prayer, and delivered the brief memorial address. He said:

REV. BROWN.

"We have gathered here today with one mind and one accord, drawn hither by a common sense of loss and by a united wish to bear further witness in this quiet service to our deep appreciation of the life of one who has just gone. While the old year with all its record of joys and pains was slipping away that Sabbath evening, the earthly life of our dear friend was drawing to its close, and New Year's Day dawned upon us with the sky of Oakland all overcast by the death of this good woman.

"Her own well-known wishes and the expressed desire of those who are dearest to her make it imperative that the words spoken at this hour should be few and simple. But though the brevity of this tribute shall be suited to their modesty rather than indicative of the importance of the service she rendered, it will, in some imperfect way, serve to express the reality and the warmth of the general esteem in which she was held.

GOOD ATTRIBUTES.

"Our good friend Mrs. Smith was originally endowed with an unusual combination of insight, good judgment, executive force, with extraordinary kindness of heart. Out of the abundance of her ability she gave freely in means and in strength to make the world better because she was living in it, and out of the abundance of her heart she sent her sympathy and love far and wide upon their errands of helpfulness. In the simple, accurate language of scripture, 'Strength and honor were her clothing, and in her heart was the law of kindness.'

HOME LIFE.

"She was also a woman who showed an unusual breadth of interest. Her own home was first and supreme in her affections—she esteemed the home the fundamental institution of our earthly life, and has given expression in permanent form here in this community to the high appraisal she placed upon it. But her love filled and overflowed the family circle—her heart went out to the little ones deprived by some disaster of their natural growing places, and she craved for them the privileges of love and nurture in a genuinely Christian home. She has made the hillside yonder opposite her own home forever fragrant and beautiful with those other homes where children are growing up into noble, useful womanhood through her beneficence.

HIGHER EDUCATION.

"She saw the value of higher education for women and gave generously of her means and her thought as an honored member of its board of trustees to Mills College. She knew the value of system and method in the administration of a city's kindness, and the Associated Charities of Oakland has been debtor to her generosity these many years. She loved to brighten and gladden the social life of the community, even as did her Master in Cana of Galilee. How many hundreds of people will remember all the years of their lives sweet hours of happiness in Arbor Villa, where she became their gracious hostess, and how many thousands of people will look back to the happy occasions when she opened her pleasure grounds for an afternoon of pleasure at the May fete. She looked out upon these many fields of interest and stood ready to do what she could that they all might have it more abundantly.

GAVE FREELY.

"She gave not only of those means with which she had been blessed in godly measure, she gave no less freely of herself. She had entered into the full meaning of Lowell's lines:

"Not what we give, but what we share,
For the gift without the giver is bare;
Who gives himself with his alms Feeds three,
Himself, his hungry neighbor and Me."

"She could enter into those cottages yonder and call every one of the sixty children by name; and the birthday of each one was somehow remembered and observed by some expression of her personal interest. She spared not herself in giving thought and strength to all the varied forms of her unselfish activity. Head and heart and purse did all agree and work together in the fulfillment of her kindly purpose.

"Such lives as this do not, nay, they cannot, die. They come to sustain a relation to and a significance for those divine purposes reaching on through the ages, which forbid their falling away into nothingness. 'Blessed are the dead which die in the Lord, saith the Spirit; they rest from their labors but their works do follow them.' Yonder on those hillside she has erected a living monument to her memory—it stands there in no cold and lifeless marble, but in the perpetual provision made by liberal endowment and wisely ordered plan for that work of Christian nurture and training which shall find its fruition in the nobler womanhood of that continuous procession of girls who shall, in all the years to come, there pass in review before the eye of her Maker. She rests from her labors but her works do follow her; and because the worker is always greater and more precious than any item of his work, we know that she will live also.

WAS PREPARED.

"Her two homes were by the sea, one of them lapped by the waves of the restless Atlantic, and the other here looked out through the Golden Gate upon the wide Pacific. And when the old year was drawing to its close, in the sacred phrase of the inspired apostle, 'The time of her departure,' literally her 'unmooring,' was at hand. The lines which held her to the dock of earthly experience were cast off and she sailed out upon the open sea destined to that haven which God has prepared for all those who love and serve Him:

"I know not what the future hath,
Of marvel or surprise,
Assured alone that life and death
His mercy underlies.

"I know not where his islands lift
Their fringed palms in air;
I only know I cannot drift
Beyond his love and care.

"And so beside the silent sea
I wait the muffled oar;
No harm from him can come to me
On ocean or on shore."

The music was very fine, being simple, stately, beautiful and full of ideal expression. It was given by the church choir under the direction of Alexander J. Stewart, as follows: "Hark, Hark, My Soul," by Chadwick (vocal solo by Mrs. Carroll Nicholson, chorus by the choir); "God So Loved the World," from "The Crucifixion," by Stainer, sung by the choir, and a hymn, "Savior," also by the choir.

Miss Virginia de Fremery, organist of the church, accompanied the choir and also played "The Funeral March and Seraphic Chant," by Gullmant.

Rev. Dr. McLean then pronounced the benediction and the audience was dismissed.

THE VANDERBILT LUGGAGE. Mr. and Mrs. Alfred Gwynne Vanderbilt have boxes for traveling which are unique and extremely serviceable. These are made of stout white wood, in appearance not unlike bird's-eye maple, save that it is unpainted. The edges are bound with iron bands and the corners and keyholes are securely fitted with plain pieces of iron. On each end the initials "A. G. V." are painted black. The whole effect of the strong, square boxes of cream and black is far more satisfactory than the usual trunk of leather—Saturday Evening Post.

CHICAGO TIRES OF CRIME

MASS MEETING CALLED TO DIS-CUSS PLANS TO END
MURDERS.

CHICAGO, Jan. 15.—The murders of four North Side women within less than two months, in a district not more than a mile square, and particularly the most wanton murder in the city's crime annals of Mrs. Bessie Hollister on Friday night, has stirred the citizens of that section of the city to indignation that will find voice in a huge mass meeting to be held some time this week. Many residents of that part of town are arming and are advising their wives to go armed and the feeling is strong throughout the city that something must be done to stop the murders.

The crimes which have aroused so much feeling were the killing of Miss Maude Reese at 200 Evanston avenue on the night of November 22, the Almburg-Moeller murder and slaying, which occurred in an alley at North Clark street and Buckingham court on January 6; the murder of Mrs. Louise Hughes Gentry in her home at 582 La Salle avenue the following day, and the killing of Mrs. Bessie Hollister on Friday.

The nucleus of the movement for the protection of helpless women is in the Lake View and Buena Clubs, organizations composed of the most influential citizens of the North Side. Meetings of the members of these clubs will be held at once and plans will be formulated for issuing a call for a convention to which all law abiding citizens are to be invited. Two of the officers and many of the clubs have suffered from highwaymen and burglars within the last few months, and the membership as a whole is in the right temper to take summary action against those responsible for this species of lawlessness.

What measures for the suppression of crime will be taken are not known, but it is planned to raise a fund by popular subscription to employ private detectives to aid in driving the criminal element from the city. The fact that Chicago is a Mecca for crooks of all kinds, from all parts of the West, has been brought closely home within the past two months to persons who ordinarily pay little attention to police affairs, and the determination is strong that this condition must not be allowed to remain. Fifty-four murders have been committed in the city since July 25, in twenty of which the victims have been women, and of this number ten of the murderers have escaped.

The police are criticized freely. Many of the patrolmen and detectives are accused of being incompetent, and drunken, neglect of duty, improper methods and petty grafting are laid at the doors of subordinate officers.

Chief of Police Collins today made a statement in which he claimed women were perfectly safe on the streets of Chicago at any time. He laid the latest crime and all crimes of a similar character to "young degenerates." The chief takes the view that the crime which cost Mrs. Hollister her life is sporadic in its nature and not likely to be duplicated again in a long time.

"A woman is as safe on the streets of Chicago now as she was at any time," said Chief Collins. "The men of Chicago are as manly and as chivalric as ever."

ARREST SUNDAY WOMEN SHINE IN ACTORS AGRICULTURE

"LID" NAILED ON MORE SECURE-LY IN CLEVELAND BY REFORMERS.

CHICAGO, Jan. 15.—A dispatch to the Tribune from Toledo, O., says:

Another nail was driven yesterday in the "lid" clamped on Toledo by Mayor Whitlock. Acting for the Ministers' Union, the Rev. O. S. Sieteborn, its president, swore out warrants against a bulesque company and the manager of the theater in which the company opened its engagement.

The warrants charge violation of the State laws which prohibit theatrical performances on Sunday.

The performance was allowed to finish and then the company was driven to the West Toledo Court, where the theater manager was released upon furnishing $350 bond and furnishing $50 bond for each member of the company.

The show was then allowed to proceed with the evening performance, but at its close a constable appeared with another warrant and again the entire troupe was arrested. Bond was furnished by the management.

GOSSIP IN THE NEWS LETTER.

In this week's News Letter, out Saturday, the Leader on talks of a financial reverse which led an aristocratic young San Francisco woman to earn her own living; a piquante incident of New Year's eve in a downtown cafe; a breezy account of the experience of a divorcee on the golf links; how the news of a recent notable engagement leaked out; and many other interesting items of local gossip. The Town Crier's voice is heard more sharply than for some time, and there are some special articles dealing with matters of special interest to San Franciscans. The various other departments of the paper are full of sprightly inside news.

Ministers, as a rule, live to a ripe old age, yet we are told the good die young.

MRS. WELLS, OF CALIFORNIA,
FOUNDER OF ENGLISH COL-LEGE, RETURNS.

NEW YORK, Jan. 15.—Mrs. Arthur T. Wells, the American president and founder of the Horticultural College for Women in St. Albans, Eng., is here en route to her native city, Los Angeles, Cal., on a visit. After her husband's death, about four years ago, in England, Mrs. Wells conceived the idea of starting a horticultural school there.

"It has proved a most gratifying success," she said in an interview following her arrival. "Women are trained in gardening and the allied subjects, and I can assure you there is no finer mode of life for a woman."

"That women can become successful horticulturists my college has proved beyond all question. I have at present 250 pupils, thirty of whom I may say are Americans by birth. There are 300 acres of ground attached to the school, and they are all under cultivation.

"The scheme was a success from the beginning. Classes in theoretical instruction are held thrice weekly.

"The real hard work, of course, is done by men."

"The college's greatest source of revenue is derived from the sale of the products of its grounds, much of the stuff being shipped fresh every day to the London markets."

MORE ENDURING.

It was just at sunset that two little neighbors were exchanging confidences.

"My mamma has begun a new story today," said Elsie. "She has written twenty sheets."

Martha drew herself up proudly. "My mamma has hemmed ten," she declared, "and she says they'll last."—Judge.

OLD SORES SAP THE VITALITY AND UNDERMINE THE HEALTH

Old Sores that refuse to heal are a constant menace to health. They sap the vitality and undermine the constitution by draining the system of its very life fluids, and those afflicted with one of these ulcers grow despondent and almost desperate as one treatment after another fails. They patiently apply salves, washes, plasters, etc., but in spite of all these the sore refuses to heal and eats deeper into the surrounding flesh, destroying the tissues and growing to be a festering, inflamed and angry mass. The source of the trouble is in the blood. This vital fluid is filled with impurities and poisons which are constantly being discharged into the sore or ulcer, making it impossible for the place to heal. It will not do to depend on external applications for a cure, because they do not reach the real cause, and valuable time is lost experimenting with such treatment; the most they can do is keep the ulcer clean. Any sore that will not heal is dangerous, for the reason that it may have the deadly germs of Cancer behind it. A cure can be brought about only through a remedy that can change the quality of the blood, and this is what S. S. S. does. It goes to the very bottom of the trouble, drives out the poisons and germs with which it is filled, and purifies and builds up the entire circulation. By the use of S. S. S. the sore is supplied with new, rich blood which corrects the trouble, soon stops the discharge, and allows the place to heal naturally and permanently. S. S. S. also reinvigorates the entire system, and where the constitution has been depleted or broken down it quickly builds it up and restores perfect health. Write for our special book on sores and ulcers, and any medical advice you are in need of; no charge for either.

BERKELEY SUBURBAN NEWS UNIVERSITY

MISSING BERKELEY WOMAN CHINESE DIGNITARIES AT UNIVERSITY ALAMEDA MEN ARE INJURED IN AN EXPLOSION

Mrs. Martin is Located at Modesto After a Search of Many Cities.

BERKELEY, Jan. 15.—Mrs. J. A. Martin has finally been heard from. Partial solution of the mystery involved in her disappearance is provided in a message received by Marshall Volmer from Marshall Jefferson G. Davis, of Modesto. The Modesto man has found Mrs. Martin, with her two-year-old babe, identifying them by their pictures printed in newspapers. The news of Mrs. Martin's whereabouts was promptly communicated to the distressed husband, who has awaited, in almost complete despair, news of the woman's wanderings. He will make arrangements to have her returned to her home in Berkeley.

EXCLUSION IS DISCUSSED AT FOXHALL KEENE SEEKS DIVORCE

DR. ARTHUR H. SMITH DELIVERS AN ADDRESS ON THE CHINESE.

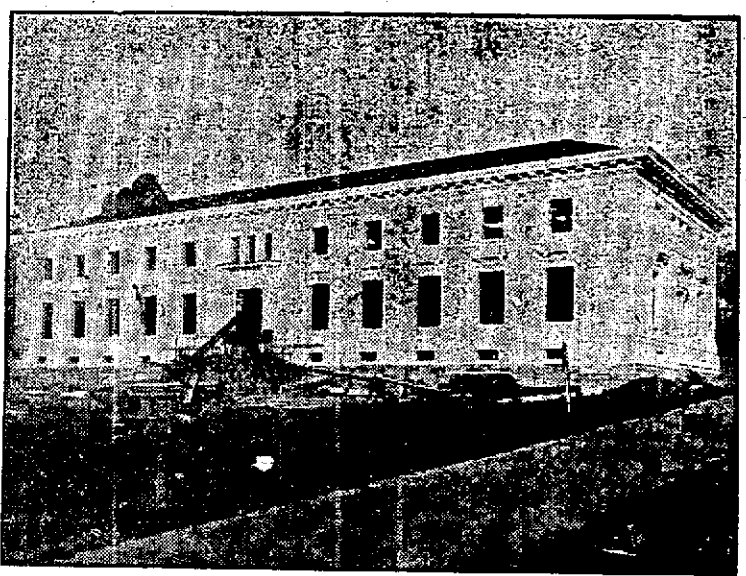

Dr. Arthur H. Smith, an American missionary to Pong Kwang, China, and the author of "Chinese Characteristics" and other similar books, delivered an address on "China and Its Future" at the First Congregational Church yesterday morning. Dr. Brown, the pastor, announcing that he had learned of Dr. Smith's presence in the city, had arranged for his own sermon in the press and calendar. Dr. Smith touched freely upon the exclusion law and the resulting boycott, declaring that the people there are only aroused and that the only way to meet them is to show them, mainly by the introduction of the Gospel, that the United States intend to treat them fairly. He told an incident of a Chinese boy who found that his granophone was made in America and at once took it into the yard and chopped it to pieces with a hatchet. His father, impressed by the logic, followed suit and broke every American article in the house. "We can stand it as long as they can," he said, "but perhaps you can't. If we had secured the railway entering into China, as we might have done, we could have sent our goods to the heart of that country with American ideas, business and religion. At it is up to us to demonstrate to the Mongolians that we intend to give them a square deal. Our commercial possibilities are well-nigh gone; now we must penetrate the land with the wedge of the Gospel. It is up to us to show them that the demand regulated the supply. In this day the manufacturer creates the demand and then fills it. When a Chinese agent entered China he told the people they ought to want machines and showed them how fast the machine ran. The people were fascinated and purchased. Now they have seen how the Gospel works and they say, 'Well, that's no bad; and this how we will do it.' Dr. Smith is spending a short time with his countryman, Cary Howard, at 34 Fremont place.

SETTLEMENT WORK FOR COLLEGE STUDENTS

STANFORD UNIVERSITY, Jan. 15.—Rev. D. Charles Gardner, chaplain of the Memorial Church, in his sermon yesterday morning outlined the plans for the university settlement work that he hopes to see taken up by the undergraduates and by the alumni who are resident in San Francisco. Rev. Mr. Gardner first entered upon this idea two years ago, and his plans have been steadily maturing. One of his first fruits was the visit to the campus for a few days recently of eighteen boys from San Francisco, who were taken care of at the Kappa Kappa Gamma sorority house. In his talk Mr. Gardner said in part: "First may I dispose of the impression that a college settlement is a sociological experiment, conducted for the benefit of students in sociology. A college settlement is not a laboratory for the investigation of the causes of poverty. A college settlement is made up of refined, educated, Christian, gentlemen or gentlewomen, moved by love of their fellow-men to live on some neglected street of a city where they become 'neighbors' in the best sense of the word. They go there, they live there, in order to share the burdens of the poor. Their home is always bright and clean—one home in the block where the neighbors are gentle, unselfish, always ready to lend a hand. The settlement home, besides exercising its simple, beneficent influence upon the neighbors, is also the center of neighborhood activity. "But is there need for such another organization among the multiplicity of organized charities? It seems to me that no one can walk through the forsaken streets and tenement districts of San Francisco without feeling the crying need of social betterment. And if such is the conclusion upon a superficial view of the district, that rational conclusion would be fired to a passion of zeal if you could know the life and problems of the poor."

Distinguished Orientals at Dedication of California Hall.

BERKELEY, Jan. 15.—By invitation of President Benjamin Ide Wheeler, the Chinese dignitaries now in San Francisco, who are empowered by the Chinese Government to investigate the workings of American institutions, the guests of the University of California today witnessing the ceremonies in connection with the dedication of California Hall. They were conveyed in a government tug across the bay at 11 o'clock. Mr. Mann, of the Southern Pacific Railroad Company, was in charge of the tug carrying the commissioners. The private car of Mr. Scott, of the railroad company's staff, was attached to the regular train leaving the mole for Berkeley. Professor Jerome Landfield represented the University when the guests arrived at the mole. Carriages in waiting at the station in Berkeley took the party of guests to the President's house, where luncheon was served. At 1 o'clock the visitors rode in carriages around the campus, inspecting the grounds and buildings. Professors Cory and Le Conte met them at the Mechanics building; Professor Christy at the new building; Professor Ames at the Greek Theater; Professor O'Neill at the Chemistry building; Victor H. Henderson, secretary of the Regents, at the California Hall. The entire party attended the exercises in Harmon Gymnasium at 2 o'clock, in connection with the dedication of California Hall. The Chinese Commissioners party occupied seats on the platform. Twenty seats were reserved for the Chinese students of the University who were seated in a body. College yells and songs were rendered by the Glee Club and the "rosters." The program included an address by President Benjamin Ide Wheeler; an address by Judge W. H. Wastie; an address by Senator G. R. Lukens; and an address by Governor Pardee. The presence of the Chinese dignitaries was commented upon gracefully by the Chinese students of the University who were seated in a body. College yells and songs were rendered by the Glee Club and the "rosters." The program included an address by President Benjamin Ide Wheeler; an address by Judge W. H. Wastie; an address by Senator G. R. Lukens; and an address by Governor Pardee. The presence of the Chinese dignitaries was commented upon gracefully by the Chinese students of the University who were seated in a body. CALIFORNIA HALL AT BERKELEY, WHICH WAS DEDICATED TODAY.

California Hall, which is one of many new structures that eventually are to grace the campus. Senator Lukens told of the Legislature's work in fostering the University, with appropriations, and beneficial legislation, and Governor Pardee discussed the same subject from the standpoint of an old University man who also now is Governor of the State of California. The inspection of California Hall then followed, hundreds viewing the interior of the building for the first time. The cost of the building, $250,000, has been in part paid by the state and in part by the University. Judge Wastie referred to the growth of the University as shown in the building of California Hall.

NEW CHARTER IS NEARLY A MILE INJURED MAN IS DISCUSSED OF SHEDS IN DANGER

CITIZENS OF ALAMEDA HOLD A MEETING SATURDAY EVENING.

ALAMEDA, Jan. 15.—At a well-attended meeting of citizens, Saturday night in the Council Chamber of the City Trustees, Charles S. Neal presiding, plans for the proposed new charter for this city were discussed. Fifteen freeholders are to be chosen at the special election called by the Board of City Trustees for the 27th instant, and at the same meeting the following were proposed for the honor of serving the city as charter-framers: George W. Emmons, E. K. Taylor, Philip S. Teller, Frank Otis, Dr. George A. Moore, Dr. Westor, O. Smith, William E. Pettis, E. J. Holt, George T. Wright, P. W. Barton, W. B. Kolmeyer, P. A. Hunter, W. C. Donnelly, William H. Noy, George M. Fulton, George H. Mastick, Charles L. Tilden, Julius Magnin, D. L. Randolph, Marsten H. Owens, H. G. Mehrens, J. E. Gilbert, J. E. Baker, J. L. Linder, W. A. Prader, George W. Taylor, Morris, E. J. Bevan, J. L. Steele, I. N. Chapman, B. C. Babcock, J. D. Jamison, Alexander Mackie, R. A. Dagus, A. F. St. Sure, H. M. Keby and Henry Michaels. It was decided to hold an early meeting when further nominations will be presented, next Thursday night in the same hall.

ALAMEDA, Jan. 15.—At its annual meeting in Odd Fellows' Hall, Alameda Chapter No. 49, Knights of Pythias, held its annual installation of officers. A. B. Thomas of San Leandro, district deputy grand master, with his staff, the Uniform Rank, officiating. The new officers are: Chancellor, commander, Manuel G. Byrne; vice-chancellor, Ralph B. Elster; prelate, John J. Peery; master-at-arms, Thomas D. Wells; master-of-work, Walter J. Plummer; keeper of records and seal, C. C. Webb; master of exchequer, G. M. Sutherland; master of finance, William J. Short; inner guard, Conrad Wehle; outer guard, H. C. Stewart.

ALAMEDA, Jan. 15.—Laurel Lodge No. 10, Friends of the Forest, has installed new officers to serve for the ensuing term as follows: Past president, Mrs. Rufner; president, Mrs. Naylor; vice-president, Mrs. Blake; chaplain, Mrs. Cresson; recording secretary, A. Schroeder; treasurer, Mrs. Sharrman; marshal, Mr. Cresson; financial secretary, Mrs. Cresson; wardens, Mr. Sherran, inside sentinel, Mrs. Ganerlich. After the installation a musical and instrumental program was rendered; and refreshments were served.

IT DIDN'T WORK. His knock on the door of a certain house was answered by a demure woman and he felt quite sure of a cold bite as he led off with: "Madam, do not think me impertinent, but let me ask if it so happened that you had a son wander away from the family fireside years ago?" "Yes, I did," she replied, as she opened the door a little farther. "He went out into the world and became a wanderer over the face of the earth?" "Yes, he did." "Days and weeks and months ran into years, and no word or sign of him?" "You knew not whether he lived or died?" "As you say, I knew nothing," replied the woman, as she stooped to the door and looked furtively at the tramp. "Well, madam," he continued, "I don't want to raise any false hopes, but—" "But you are just a little too late!" she finished, as he swallowed the lump in his throat and tried to wipe away a tear. "My wandering son returned about two hours ago and is now taking dinner."

DEED IS FILED BY ATTORNEY LAWSON

Attorney Frank Lawson filed a deed just before closing time of the Recorder's office, Saturday conveying considerable property concerned in the celebrated Honora Bentley case from Mrs. Bentley's daughter, Margaret Curtis, and David Mitchell, back to Mrs. Bentley. This property is all of the holdings in West Berkeley and disposes of the question as to what had become of the realty in question since the dispute began. Mitchell, who is charged with assault, and James Fitzpatrick, who claims to be the husband of Mrs. Bentley, and who was arrested on a charge of having set fire to her home after having been elected therefrom, are confined in adjoining cells in the county jail, where they frequently engage in wordy disputes and applying unpleasant terms to each other. Mitchell claims that when he and Fitzpatrick are taken into the corridor for exercise, the latter abuses him and Mitchell's attorney says he will protest to the sheriff if some measure is not taken to prevent it. Many a man would fail to arrive but for his ability to butt in.

Terrific Blow-Out of Illuminating Gas Does Much Damage.

ALAMEDA, Jan. 15.—The terrific explosion, at 8:30 o'clock yesterday morning, of a dense mass of illuminating gas which had collected in the garret of a small room in the barber shop of Jessie M. Robinson of 1205 Buena Vista avenue, a colored man, whose little place is at 1124 Railroad avenue, at Bay station, completely wrecked the place, while the barber, with Nicholas W. Muller, who was trying to get a shave at the time and instead got a free "singe," and Robert James, a plumber residing at 1613 Lafayette street, who had touched off the accumulation of explosive gas with a match, were all more or less seriously burned. James suffering the worst from the terrific blow-out. The concussion when the gas was inadvertently touched off by the plumber, called from his shop near by to correct a leak at the gas jet, shocked the residents of the entire central part of town. The firemen responded to a bell alarm from box 17, but found that their services were not required, as there had been no fire following the explosion, which, however, made a ruin of the barber shop. The plate glass in front was blown half way across Railroad avenue, while the entire rear portion of the building, which is owned by J. A. Rammel, was blown to fragments by the ignition of the gas. The loss is estimated by Fire Chief Fred K. Krauth Jr. at about $1500. Had anyone been passing on the sidewalk at the time they would perhaps have been caught in the fusillade of shattered glass and received fatal injuries. There had been a small leak in the gas pipe in the little room immediately back of the barber shop, and the escaping fluid, shut in by closed doors, had been ascending all through the night through an aperture into the garret. When James, the plumber, was summoned there was no very pronounced odor of gas in the room, and he tested the pipe and repaired the leak. While accomplishing this, he attended to the garret, by using a small ladder, and opening a trapdoor, struck a match to investigate further. As he did so there was a tremendous detonation and he was blown to the floor, where he lay stunned, and burned and bleeding, among the wreckage of the place, having had a narrow escape from being killed outright. The side of his face was burned, his clothing had ignited, and both his hands were scorched. Dr. A. S. Stanford, who was immediately called to attend the injured at Hunter's pharmacy, found that the skin of James' right hand, in which he had held the match which accomplished the mischief, was almost completely burned off on both sides. He will recover, but the injury will confine him to the house for some time to come. Nicholas Muller, of the firm of Muller Bros., of Santa Clara avenue and Bay street, who was in the chair, had the side of his face which was upturned to the blast badly blistered, while Robinson, the colored welder of the razor, naturally had the back of his head and neck scorched, as he was bending over Muller. At the moment of the explosion the front and rear doors of the establishment were fortunately open, which relieved to some extent the force of the terrific concussion. Jars of pickles and other stock in the delicatessen shop of Mrs. E. E. E. in the same building and directly east of Robinson's shop, suffered severely in the heavy shake-up, while considerable damage was done in the carpenter shop of J. T. Hardin, situated directly on the other side of the barber's wrecked shop.

TWO ENEMIES OF COLLEGES REOPEN UMBRELLAS TODAY

ANCIENT DEVICE PROMISES TO BE EXTERMINATED BY INVENTIONS.

LONDON, Jan. 15.—The umbrella has two deadly enemies, which between them will eventually exterminate it. They are, according to a dealer interviewed by the Daily Mirror, the bowler hat and two penny tube. Ten years ago the self-respecting British business man would as soon have thought of starting for the office without his boots as without a silk hat, but all this is changed. Now the bowler is the invariable wear of at least one Cabinet Minister, and the weather-resisting qualities have endeared the number. Some of the hats, however, have pockets of the great and small, and with the adoption of the bowler the business man is more or less independent of the useful but troublesome umbrella. As if that were not sufficient to dishearten the umbrella, the electric railway has struck another blow at the trade. An umbrella dealer who appeared at the Clerkenwell county court as a debtor the other day declared the tubes had run away with his trade. Tuesday.—Instruction in all classes begins at 8 a. m. Wednesday.—Volunteer Band of the University of California, Stiles Hall, 5 p. m.; Glee Club, Stiles Hall, 7:30 p. m.; El Cid Club, Berkeley, 2607 Benvenue avenue, 8 p. m. Friday.—Memorial service in honor of President Harper of the University of Chicago, First Presbyterian Church, Berkeley, 11 a. m. The speakers are Rev. J. V. Voss, pastor of the First Baptist Church of Oakland, and President Wheeler of the University of California. Sunday.—Half-hour of music, Greek Theater, 4 p. m. The public will be welcome.

ELECTRICITY AS A MOTIVE POWER

DENVER, Jan. 15.—Blon Joseph Arnold, the noted electrical engineer, and his staff, here for some months investigating the advisability of the use of electricity as a motive power for the Denver and Rio Grande Railroad, have returned to the East to report to George Gould, who ordered the investigation, that the plan is feasible and will prove economical. The report will show that all the power required for the use of all the railroads of the State could be generated from mountain falls. Arnold reports the plan feasible in every respect, and the great gain in the use of modern electrical engines take to the climbs better than the steam locomotive, he says. Now that the purport of Arnold's report has been made known, Colorado financiers wonder that so much reserve power has been permitted to go to waste for so many years. Colorado is far behind every other Western State in this respect. California and Utah have long since led the way.

A DISRAELI ANECDOTE.

When Sir Wemyss Reid was a young man he served an apprenticeship as a reporter and in the course of his duties was taken upon to "cover" a public meeting at which Disraeli spoke. Sir Wemyss says in his "Memoirs": "I had to stand among the crowd and take my notes as best I could. A good-natured farmer in front of me invited me to use his back as a desk, against which I placed my notebook. I found that my friend was not by any means in agreement with the illustrious speaker. The orator had paused for a moment, and my farmer friend, seizing his chance, bawled out in a stentorian voice, 'What about educating your party?' "Instantly the prime minister turned around, raised his glass to his eye, and with an angry and contemptuous glare, transfixed me! The farmer's courage had given way when he found that his shot had told, and to my unutterable disgust, he dropped upon his knees and left me to face the music. "Disraeli looked at me for a perceptible space of time and then, dropping his glass, said, in the chilling tones of which he was a master, 'I shall certainly not try to educate you, sir.' Everybody stared at me; everybody gazed at me."

ADMIT MINISTERS THINK AMERICAN AFTER FIGHT OFFICIAL LOST

PREACHER'S SPEECH AT LABOR U. S. VICE-CONSUL ABOARD
MEETING TURNS TIDE WRECKED SHIP OFF BUENOS IN HIS FAVOR. AYRES.

NEW YORK, Jan. 15.—After a stormy meeting the Central Federated Union yesterday passed a resolution admitting as fraternal delegates Rev. M. S. Littlefield and Rev. John B. Devins, representing the New York Presbyterians. It looked at first as if the Socialists, who were up in arms against the admission of clergymen, would carry the day. Mr. Littlefield, who sat through the whole proceedings, turned the tide by a little speech he made before the vote was taken. The conditions under which the two clergymen were admitted provided that they are to have no voice in the election of officers. "We don't want any sky pilots here," said August Glanville, of the Atlantic Coast Seamen's Union. "This body has only to do with earthly things. Before we look after our souls we ought to see that our bodies are not starved."

Ephraim Kaufmann, of the Clothing Cutters' Union, scored the delegates for their narrowness, as also did former Assemblyman Prince who represented the cigarmakers.

The speeches which followed were a medley of Socialism, trade unionism and religion. Mr. Littlefield finally got the privilege of the floor.

"I represent a closed shop," he said, and he was interrupted with shouts of applause. Then he explained that his closed shop was the ministry, every member of which had to be thoroughly qualified.

"I am getting a church built, and none but union men will be allowed to finish it."

More applause followed, and Mr. Littlefield went on to say that the ministers wanted was to get a chance of investigating labor conditions at the fountain head and invited the delegates to send representatives to the meetings of the Presbyterian B. B. speech turned the scale, and by a vote of 69 to 2 it was decided to admit the delegates.

Critchfield Claim Against Venezuela to Be Settled.

NEW YORK, Jan. 15.—The latest information from Caracas regarding the Critchfield claim against Venezuela, which dispatches from Washington say will be pressed by the State Department, is that it will be satisfactorily adjusted between the Government of Venezuela and the United States of the Critchfield concessions, says the Tribune. The claim grows out of the shutting down by the government of the asphalt property "El Indolito," near Maracaibo, for failure to pay an export tax imposed on the product by President Castro. The claim is for $1,600,000.

The terms of the Critchfield concession include a clause that the asphalt from "El Indolito" was to be free from such a tax as was imposed by President Castro. The property was shut down about the time that the High Federal Court cancelled the concession of the New York and Bermudez Company at Guanoaco. The government was contented to take from the non-payment of taxes the Critchfield concession was approved by the Congress according to the laws of Venezuela.

The trouble, however, is said to have been settled by Ambrose Howard Carter, resident of the non-payment of taxes, who intervened with President Castro in the interests of the United States and Venezuela Company. The Congress, which convenes in Caracas in April, will confirm the concession and the claim will be withdrawn.

TO SELL WALSH'S RAILROAD

PROPERTY OF CHICAGO FINANCIAL ARTIST TO CHANGE HANDS.

NEW YORK, Jan. 15.—John Mitchell, president of the Illinois Trust and Savings Bank, and James C. Hutchins, attorney for the Chicago Clearing House, which is handling the affairs of the defunct Walsh financial institutions, who are now in this city, are understood to have the Journal of Commerce to be arranged for the reorganization and sale of the chief Walsh property, the Southern Indiana Railway Company. This property would be valuable to either the Lake Shore or the Rock Island, but a representative of one of these roads said yesterday that in order to want to take the Chicago Clearing House banks who took over the Walsh assets would have to fix a satisfactory price. The price, he intimated, would have to be less than what Walsh claimed the property was worth.

AN ENGAGEMENT.

The engagement is announced of Miss Nellie Marshall and Joseph Longergan. Both young people have a large circle of friends in this city who will extend congratulations.

CLARK IN NEVADA.

Harry A. Clark, former chief jailer at the County Jail, is reported by his brother-in-law, George C. Fraser, of 921 Chestnut street to be at Bullfrog, Nev. Clark disappeared very suddenly two weeks ago and it was said that he had talked about going to Nevada, nothing was known as to his whereabouts.

GIVE HER A CHANCE.

Old Dame Nature has a sure way of curing sick people by food if the kind she wants is supplied the body and the person don't interfere with drugs.

She prescribes such things as fresh air and sunshine, exercise and right food as her principal agencies.

Grape-Nuts is a natural food, prepared from wholesome grains, with no drugs or chemical ingredients or preservatives and is shipped from the factory in the strongest form that the weakest stomach will readily assimilate it.

An Ohio woman who suffered for twelve years from nervous prostration, night sweats, imperfect circulation, insomnia, etc., tells how Grape-Nuts food restored her to health and happiness in less than twelve weeks.

"I was so reduced in strength with untold suffering without vitality or ambition, bed-ridden and unable to even wait on myself, that I felt obliged to doctor all the time, taking one prescription after another, but deriving no permanent benefit from any. Sometimes I would feel better for a little while, but soon the effects of the medicine would pass away and I would lapse back to my former condition."

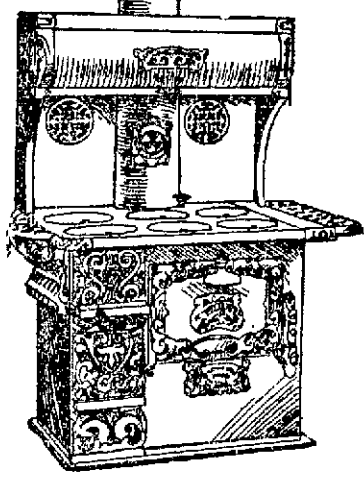

"Last May at my mother's solicitation I concluded to quit medicines and try Grape-Nuts food. I did not work a miracle at once, but I slowly and surely, day by day, I began to get up, then to sleep, till at last, by the end of June I was able to leave home for a visit, (taking my Grape-Nuts with me, be sure), returning after a few weeks, completely restored, with a healthy interest in my domestic duties and, thank Heaven, the strength to perform them!"

"That it is so, and that I am stronger, a mind and quicker and more vigorous intellectually, is due to the use of Grape-Nuts food." Name given by Postum Co., Battle Creek, Mich.

SUICIDE CAUSE BETRAYED BY WIFE, HE DOMINICAN BOAT OF DEATH ATTEMPTS MURDER FOR U. S.

Brother of Policeman M'Creedy Discovers His Spouse With Another Man.

BERKELEY, Jan. 15.—The story of a young wife whose husband almost daily talked of committing suicide because of the fear of tuberculosis would be communicated by him to his beloved companion was told by Mrs. W. S. Boyd to a Coroner's jury Saturday night in the home of George D. Prentice at 2311 Webster street. During the inquest, ordered by the Coroner after Boyd's death on January 4, Mrs. Boyd tearfully related the weird tale of a melancholy husband's earnest desire for death and his own efforts to persuade him that his life was of value and that love for her should impel him to live and not to long for death.

"After my husband's attack on the night of December 22, said Mrs. Boyd, I watched him night and day, and slept but little. I feared he would take his own life. He had spoken so much of death when consumption had fastened upon him and how he feared he would communicate the disease to me. I could not get this idea from his mind, apparently. I went with him to the telephone, where he worked, and to the tea room, where he had lunch, but he was out of my sight. I did not know that he had poison in the house. I can't tell how he managed to take it without my knowledge."

City Chemist Brown's report of his analysis of Boyd's stomach was read. He found cyanide of potassium in the stomach in such quantities that one hundred parts of the amount found would have caused the death in five minutes or less.

Dr. J. E. Gillman, who attended Boyd when he was suffering tortures caused by swallowing poison on December 23, and also on January 4, the latter occasion being that of Boyd's death, described the man's symptoms as similar to those of strychnine poisoning. The poison had been introduced in the record of Druggist, C. H. Delbert, Twenty-third avenue, East Oakland, showing that Boyd had purchased strychnine there on December 19, a few days before his first attempt at suicide.

The jury, composed of M. H. Smith, John Lewis, C. R. Hoess, Bert Gottshall, P. Penfield, A. P. Merrill, B. F. Bowman and William Healey, found a verdict of suicide.

"I tried to give her the best home I could, and I can't understand why she betrayed my trust. But the end has come, and now all that I want is to be set free, so that she will have no further opportunity of disgracing my little daughter. She may have what she wants of the furniture and all her personal belongings, but no matter what happens, I shall keep the child."

Such were the words of Fred L. McCready, a Southern Pacific bridge tender, who last Thursday night surprised his wife, Violet McCready, with an unknown man in their home at 1023 Tenth avenue, after the first fury of his wrath had passed when he made a desperate effort to kill both his wife and her paramour. He has filed a suit for divorce charging her with infidelity and cruelty, and names E. K. Ford of Sixth and Washington streets and Thomas Rouse of Berkeley as co-respondents. The unknown man who was found with Mrs. McCready Thursday night is said to be a married man with a child and a home in San Francisco.

WORKS AT NIGHT.

McCready works at night, and Thursday evening went to the theater with his wife and then left her to go to his post on the bridge, supposing that she would go straight home. McCready, however, a brother, Policeman Harry B. McCready, and he saw the woman with a stranger on the car riding toward East Oakland. Officer McCready's suspicions were aroused and he sent for his brother, who for years has been a tender at Webster street drawbridge.

BREAK INTO HOUSE.

As soon as Harry McCready had summoned his brother the two men, with A. L. Hook, a brother-in-law, went to East Oakland. Fred McCready broke into the house, followed by his brother. The husband's suspicions were quickly verified. In the home was a man, and the conditions were such as to madden the husband. He drew a pistol, but just as he was about to shoot his wife and her companion the brother and Hook grappled with him and dragged him into another room.

The three battled together, but Fred McCready was overpowered, handcuffed and dragged into another room. During the struggle the stranger jumped through a bedroom window and escaped. He has not been identified. The policeman and Hook kept the maddened husband away from his wife and called him so that he agreed not to harm her.

WOMAN CONFESSES.

Mrs. McCready made a confession of wrong-doing to her husband in the presence of McCready and Hook. Fred McCready left the house and went to his brother's home. At the residence was McCready's daughter, May, 5 years old, who went in the morning to the home of Mrs. McCready's mother, Mrs. P. Campbell, 2329 Carlton street, Berkeley. Fred McCready will not talk concerning the trouble.

His brother denied that any shooting had been done, saying, "I took a pistol from Fred before we got to the house. I do not know where he got the weapon. He aimed my shoulder at his wife and her companion when we discovered them in the room. As soon as I saw the pistol I grappled with Fred, and Hook also grappled with him."

"I grasped his wrist and turned the muzzle of the pistol upward, but Fred did not shoot, as the gun was caught too quickly. We handcuffed him to make sure he would do no physical injury to his wife. We have her confession from her and my brother will sue for a divorce at once."

LITTLE EVIDENCE AGAINST DENTIST

SAN FRANCISCO, Jan. 15.—Dr. J. J. Leek, the dentist who was accused of the murder of Mrs. Mary Matthews of Oakland, was discharged Saturday by Police Judge Stanford. The court found that there was little evidence to support the charge. The claim of the State's criminal operation performed by Dr. Leek. The State failed to prove its case.

Of Waverly, Texas, writes: "Of a morning, when first arising, I often find a troublesome collection of phlegm which produces a cough and is very hard to dislodge. I use a small quantity of Ballard's Horehound Syrup will at once dislodge it, and the trouble is over. I know of no medicine that is equal to it, and it is so pleasant to take. I can most cordially recommend it to all persons needing a medicine for throat or lung trouble." Sold by W. H. Wright's drug store, Tenth and Washington streets.
